Bartholomew Appropriation Request Fails

Funds For Two Dams Denied By Legislators

BATON ROUGE (Special)—Nine special appropriation bills advanced by Northeast Louisiana legislators failed here Thursday, including the $850,000 appropriation request for two dams on Bayou Bartholomew in Morehouse parish.

The House Appropriations Committee steadfastly stuck to its policy of keeping special appropriations from hitting Gov. Long's desk and administration leaders contended there are no funds available for individual appropriations this year.

Also failing were an $80,000 request to purchase land for expanding the campus at Louisiana Tech and $400,000 appropriations to provide matching funds for health centers in 28 Louisiana parishes.

Others defeated were:

(1) $25,000 for capital outlay by the West Carroll recreation district No. 1.

(2) $5,000 to Ouachita parish for road and drainage work.

(3) $25,000 for capital outlay by Ouachita Valley Fair Association.

Voted Down

Two other bills voted down by the committee proposed increasing the per diem of Tensas Levee Board to $25 a meeting of the Fifth Louisiana Levee District from $4 to $25.

Rep. W. Gilbert Faulk of Monroe attacked the committee's airtight policy on money bills when the House voted 38-21 to uphold the appropriations committee in turning down $3,000 to satisfy a judgement against the state obtained by Charlie Sylvester Miller in Ouachita parish.

He told the House: "With our officials riding in Cadillacs all over the state and telephoning all over the state, you can't tell me that we can't pay a just debt of $3,000. I know in your personal lives you gentlemen pay your debts."

All money bills brought up before the committee were killed with an unfavorable tag. Attempts to overrule the committee on the floor of the House went for naught.

The Bayou Bartholomew appropriations were being sought by both Morehouse and Ouachita parish legislators in an effort to improve the levee.

United States Ousts Hungarian Military Attache

WASHINGTON, May 30 (AP)—The United States has ordered Lt. Karoly Meszaros, assistant Hungarian military attache, to leave the country by Monday. The move is apparently in retaliation for the ouster of an American officer from Communist Hungary last month.

The State Department, in announcing the ouster of Meszaros, gave no reason for its decision. But last month the Soviet satellite government at Budapest accused Capt. Thomas R. Gleason of espionage and gave him 48 hours to get out. Gleason was assistant U. S. military attache in Budapest.

Curt Note

The action against Meszaros was taken yesterday when Dep. Asst. Secretary Jacob Beam sent a curt note to Hungary's ranking diplomat here, Tibor Zador, first secretary of the legation.

"I have to inform you," Beam wrote "that the presence in the United States of 1st Lt. Karoly Meszaros, assistant military and air attache at the legation of the Hungarian People's Republic, is no longer agreeable to the United States government."

The note then called for the officer's departure not later than June 3.

State Department press officer Joseph Reap said there was no connection between this action and a demand by Hungary last weekend that the United States substantially reduce its legation staff in Budapest.

Parley Hits Snag On Disarmament

LONDON, May 30, (UP)—The five-power East-West disarmament talks were recessed today until Monday with Russia throwing cold water on Western hopes to speed a first step towards arms cuts.

The United States and West Germany may propose a four-power foreign ministers meeting with Russia to solve other world problems as soon as an initial step on disarmament was reached. But an official Soviet Tass News Agency dispatch, called this "putting a spoke in the wheels of the cause of a disarmament agreement."

The Soviet press went further in charging Secretary of State John Foster Dulles with complicity in what it termed the election "tricks" of West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

Big Four Meeting

It was Adenauer who suggested that the West accept a big four foreign ministers meeting if the Soviet Union accepts partial disarmament.

But it was clear the Soviet Union was not going to agree with that reasoning, but would stand pat on these positions:

—That disarmament negotiations be conducted independently

19-Day Ordeal On Mountain Ends With Rescue Of Woman

SINCLAIR, Wyo., May 30 (AP)—A 19-day ordeal on a Wyoming mountain ended today for Mrs. Dalton Lemasurier of Duluth, Minn. During that time she lived on three candy bars.

A plane carrying Mrs. Lemasurier, 46, and her husband crashed on Ferris Mountain just north of here May 11. She told rescuers her husband, a Duluth radio station executive, died four days after the crash. They had slid about 400 yards down the 9,500-foot high mountain and built a shelter.

She was taken to a Rawlins, Wyo., hospital, but officials there refused to give out any information on her condition. Rescuers said, however, that she was coherent when found and able to walk.

The crash, subsequent search and rescue were filled with irony.

The Wyoming Aeronautics Commission conducted an eight-day search for the missing plane, concentrating most of its efforts in the area where the crash occurred. However, rain and snow-

Tornadoes Sweep Back Into Texas

Cloudburst Hits Watershed Of Ft. Worth Area

By UNITED PRESS

A cloudburst with considerable wind, lightning and thunder struck Fort Worth Thursday night and the sheriff's office said it was tracking a tornado in the Benbrook area, southwest of the city.

The cloudburst dumped tons of water on lakes in the area that were already running over the spillway from last week's disastrous floods that chased 4,000 persons from their homes and caused damage estimated up to $25,000,000.

The tornado was reported still in the air and had not touched down.

It was one of perhaps a half dozen reported in the Fort Worth area tonight. Others would not be confirmed.

Running Over Spillway

Benbrook is the site of the huge Benbrook flood control reservoir. It was already running over the spillway.

Fort Worth police prepared to barricade underpasses and low crossings in anticipation of minor flooding. But if the heavy downpours continued for very long, last week's floods could be repeated, United Press Correspondent Carl Freund reported.

The new outburst of weather wasn't confined to North Central Texas alone.

A weather front marched across the Panhandle dropping heavy rains on Amarillo. Hail the size of tennis balls and a four-inch cloudburst swept Hobbs, N.M., Thursday, flooding many sections of the

Translator For 'Voice' Found Slain

WASHINGTON, May 30 (AP)—Shot seven times, the body of a Russian translator for the Voice of America was found today in the fashionable 16th Street apartment of his former fiancée, Miss Edith Louise Hough, 41, an investment firm secretary.

Police said Miss Hough, an attractive brunette from a prominent family, admitted the shooting and explained:

"He was psychologically aggressive toward me."

Woman Charged

Charged with first degree murder, she was held without bond.

The dead man was Zuhab Abdusheli, 40, who was married to another woman just two weeks ago. He had lived until May 1 on the same floor of the Woodner Apartments that Miss Hough did.

His wife, Mrs. Irene Eristoff Abdusheli, 43, said he had been a friend of Miss Hough's for years and at one time had been her fiancé. Mrs. Abdusheli said he had called on Miss Hough this morning to express condolences on the death of her father, Dr. William H. Hough.

Dr. Hough, who practiced and taught medicine in Washington many years, died of cancer Sunday at Deland, Fla.

Mrs. Abdusheli said her husband

Fatalities Run Below Forecast On Memorial Day

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Memorial Day holiday weekend traffic toll was lower than forecast for the period.

But as usual the toll on the highways was far greater than from any other type of holiday mishap.

Fatalities tabulated between 6 p.m. Wednesday and last night totaled 63. Of these, 48 were in automobile accidents, 10 from drowning and 5 in the "miscellaneous" category.

The National Safety Council in Chicago had estimated at least 120 persons would be killed in traffic accidents alone in the 30-hour period.

The Council said the normal accidental death toll for a nonholiday Thursday at this time of year is 75.

A tabulation made by the Associated Press for a 30-hour period from Wednesday night through Thursday two weeks ago showed 85 traffic fatalities, 16 deaths by drowning and 45 from other causes for a total of 146.

Haiti Leader Asks UN For Intervention

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti, May 30 (AP)—One of Haiti's leading presidential candidates urged today that the United Nations take immediate action to end violence and turmoil in this Negro republic and establish machinery for "free and honest elections."

Former Sen. Louis Dejoie, wealthy 61-year-old planter, said in an interview the U.N. offered the best hope to dispel threats of continuing violence that could destroy this nation. He said all 10 candidates for the presidency in June 16 elections should "accept mediation by the United Nations which would assure free elections."

Little Support Seen

His plea was unlikely to find support among other presidential aspirants, including Provisional President Daniel Fignole, 43-year-old favorite of Port au Prince workers. Fignole has declared "free, honest and sincere" elections would be held "as soon as possible."

Dejoie declared Fignole's accession to the provisional presidency last Sunday—backed by candidates Dr. Francois Duvalier and Clement Jumelle, plus elements of the army—was "a revolutionary coup d'etat supported only in Port au Prince, which accounts for 10 per cent of Haiti's total vote."

Dejoie termed "illegal and non-democratic" Fignole's announcement that he would seek election to a regular six-year term as president. Haiti's constitution specifically prohibits a provisional executive from being elected, Dejoie asserted.

Pro-Red Rioting Quickly Smashed Within Lebanon

BEIRUT, Lebanon, May 30 (UP)—Lebanon's pro-Western government today crushed a riot which official sources said was backed by Egyptian, Syrian and Communist agents.

At least six persons were killed and 16 wounded in 90 minutes of fighting along Beirut's main street. A U.S. embassy official, in charge was stoned during the battle, in which police and troops rushed rioters who were waving photographs of Egypt's President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

The government arrested more than 200 persons, including one of two former premiers who had led the demonstrators.

An official source said Egyptian, Syrian and Communist agents and money were behind a conspiracy to overthrow President Camille Chamoun's regime, just as they had attempted to depose King Hussein in Jordan.

Target of the rioters, who raged through the streets today, was the pro-Western policy of Premier Sami Solh's government, which supports the Arab League as well as the Eisenhower Doctrine but refuses to allow Lebanon to become a satellite of Egypt.

"Today's events constitute a true copy of events that were carried out by foreign Arab elements in Jordan last month," an official source said. But he added that only a small minority of Lebanese took part in today's violence and the riots were put down quickly.

Complete Surprise

The presentation of his diploma came as a complete surprise, for little did he know that the Louisiana State Department of Education had verified his eligibility for graduation with Superintendent Van Odom.

Admiral Goodwin's belated graduation came as the result of a technicality involving the number of grades in Louisiana schools. The old city school had 12 when "Hilton" was a boy, even though other state schools had only 11.

Thus, the State Education Department rechecked his records and credits and graduated him

Retiring Admiral Gets Diploma Here

Rear Admiral Hugh H. Goodwin, member of the old Monroe City School class of 1918, graduated from high school last night with the Neville class of 1957 on the eve of his retirement from the Navy.

Admiral Goodwin, who left Monroe in 1917 to join the Navy after completing his 11th year in school, received his high school diploma 40 years late as a 1918 graduate of the old city school.

Unbeknowning that he would be graduated from high school also, Admiral Goodwin was the guest speaker at Neville's 1957 commencement before leaving for Colorado Springs where he will be retired today.

Two Photostatic

Odom presented the Admiral with not one photostatic copy of his diploma, but with two. One was a Louisiana high school diploma, the other was of the old Monroe City School.

Some 138 Neville seniors heard their "fellow" graduate speak of life in terms of the military before he paralled them with life as a civilian.

"Man has a fine chance of surviving the storm at sea if he learns to use some basic principles," Admiral Goodwin said. He described the "basic principles," as honesty, integrity and observance of the Golden Rule.

In describing his first storm at sea during which he said he learned the "humility of man," Admiral Goodwin said success can

Air Force To Retire Last Of Its Enlisted Rank Pilots

MOBILE, Ala., May 30 (AP)—The Air Force announced today that it will retire the last of its flying sergeants tomorrow, ending an era in the history of this nation's military aviation.

Weather-lined, 59-year-old M. Sgt. George Holmes will receive his final orders from Brig. Gen. Laurence B. Kelley, commander of Brookley Air Force Base where the long-time pilot has been based since June, 1954.

Holmes, with more than 9,000 hours of flying time in his log, will leave the Air Force with only officers as pilots. No other enlisted man is authorized to pilot a military plane.

Holmes, who rose to the rank of lieutenant colonel with command pilot wings during World War II, has flown for the Navy, the Army and Signal Corps and the Air Force. He also turned in 787 hours piloting commercial planes in the late 1920's and early 1930's.

Jury Gives Verdict After Short Study

MONTGOMERY, Ala., May 30 (AP)—Two young white men were acquitted late today of the bombing of a Negro church.

The verdict by the 12 white jurors came after one hour and 35 minutes deliberation and brought a ringing outburst of applause from the packed courtroom after court was adjourned.

The verdict cleared Raymond C. Britt Jr., 27, and Sonny Kyle Livingston Jr., 19, of the charge of bombing the Hutchinson St. Baptist Church early on the morning of Jan. 10 during an outbreak of violence which followed the end of city bus segregation in Montgomery.

Others Continued

Before the verdict was returned, Circuit Solicitor William Thetford had announced that bombing charges against two other defendants and two other counts against Britt had been continued until the July term of court at the request of defendants.

As the jury returned to the courtroom, Circuit Judge Eugene Carter warned the crowd against any demonstration. But the moment court was adjourned, the spectators burst into loud applause and cheering.

The verdict came after the prosecution warned that acquittal might bring on "racial rioting" in Montgomery.

Four churches, the homes of two pro-integration ministers, and a Negro taxicab stand and adjoining residence were bombed in two outbreaks of terrorism following the end of bus segregation in Montgomery.

Only For Church Blast

Bratt and Livingston were put on trial this week only for the dynamiting of one church. Bratt also faces charges of dynamiting another church and the taxicab stand.

Insurgents In Algeria Kill 275 Men In Village

ALGIERS, May 30 (UP)—A band of national liberation front insurgents was reported to have stormed into the village of Neluz, 115 miles southeast of here, today and killed the town's 275 male inhabitants.

Reports said no male was spared in the slaughter which took place before the eyes of the victims' families.

The women and children fled 27 miles to Bordj Bou Arreridj, where a French garrison is located. French troops raced to Neluz but the attackers had disappeared.

The mass killing was believed to stem from rivalry between the national liberation movement and the Algerian nationalist movement, and older and less extreme group.

Earlier, the French reported the 38 rebels were killed in two battles during the past 24 hours. Officers said French forces wiped out a huge rebel organization at Tebessa.

Two Jets Collide, One Hits Row Of Minneapolis Homes

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., May 30 (UP)—Two Navy Panther jets collided while flying a Memorial Day salute over a cemetery today and one crashed into a row of houses. The pilot was killed and 11 persons were injured.

Cmdr. Newell F. Olson, 38, liaison officer of the naval air station here, died when his parachute failed to open completely and he was caught in a tree. His body dangled 30 feet above the ground before it could be recovered.

His plane smashed into a row of five homes with a flash "like an A-bomb," demolishing two of them. Nine residents of the neighborhood were injured and four were reported in "poor" condition. Two firemen were injured fighting blazes which broke out after the crash.

Escaped Injury
Miraculously, the second pilot escaped serious injury and his plane crashed in the only unoccupied area within several blocks, missing a playground full of children by 150 yards.

The second pilot, Lt. (jg) John A. Forsmark, 26, Minneapolis, Minn., parachuted successfully and landed on a sidewalk about a block from where his plane hit. He suffered scratches on the neck and nothing more.

Woman Gives Eye-Witness Crash Story

Editors' Note: Mrs. Elmer Dahl was one of the Minneapolis residents whose homes were wrecked or damaged when a Navy Panther jet plunged into a residential area after a collision during a Memorial Day flight. Here is her story of what happened.

By MRS. ELMER DAHL, MINNEAPOLIS, May 30 (UP)—I was ironing in the kitchen of our two-story home when I heard jet planes which sounded terribly low.

I opened the door to the living room to see what was happening and was blinded by a glare which was brighter than the sun. Then the living room of the house burst into flames.

I ran out the back door through the smoke. I could see the body of a man (the pilot of the jet) dangling from a parachute which was caught in a tree.

My neighbors were running from their houses and I could hear screams above the roar of the fire.

It was the most horrifying thing I've ever seen. The first thing I thought of was that an atom bomb had fallen.

Green peas look so pretty in nests of mashed potatoes. Top the peas with strips of pimiento. Small fry like this; oysters, too!

FATHER, YOUNG
WESTON, Neb., May 30 (UP)—A father and his two young daughters were killed this afternoon when their light plane crashed and burned near here.

The victims were identified as Jesse W. Myers, about 35, and his daughters, Susan Kay, 7, and Sherry Lee, 5, all of Omaha, Neb.

The trio had taken off this morning in a three-place Piper Cub headed for Grand Island, Neb. The plane nosed into a farm field near Weston. The plane was demolished and the bodies were burned and mangled beyond recognition.

Ex-Convict Who Shot Police Officer Cornered, Suicides

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., May 30 (UP)—As officers closed in today on an ex-convict wanted in the shooting of a police officer, the 32-year-old fugitive turned his .45 caliber automatic pistol on himself and took his own life.

George Dunbar died minutes later in the climax of one of the largest manhunts ever staged in the Little Rock area.

Dunbar had been the object of a 12-hour search that began early today when he shot Patrolman R. B. Lankford, 33, in the back after Lankford stopped him and another man in a car for a routine check.

The tracer bullet entered the patrolman's left side and shattered a vertebra in his back. His condition tonight was reported serious at a Little Rock hospital.

VISIT EXPECTED
DONALDSONVILLE — UP — An Agricultural Extension service director from Dutch Guiana, South America, will arrive here Friday on a study tour of drainage techniques in the area. The director, William Leo Relyveld, is in the U. S. under the auspices of the Department of Agriculture's foreign agricultural service.

Smith was jailed and Pulaski County Prosecutor Frank Holt said he would file charges of burglary and larceny and assault with intent to kill against him. Smith told officers he met Dunbar several years ago when both were serving sentences at the Arkansas state penitentiary.

About 150 officers took part in the manhunt for Smith and Dunbar.

Smith told police that he "slipped away" from Dunbar after the two had "walked around the woods" all night some two miles south of Little Rock.

A resident of the area in which Dunbar was hiding said he saw a man "come running out of the woods." C. C. Brakebill said "he spotted me, then dashed back into the underbrush."

Brakebill notified officers who were searching the area. The lawmen rushed into the woods and were surrounding Dunbar when he suddenly stopped, pointed the pistol at his chest and pulled the trigger.

A note found in Dunbar's pocket showed he had no plans to be taken alive. The note, apparently written last night, said: "Dear Billie & Boys: 'Mama, it looks like this is it for me. You be good and come to my funeral. I couldn't listen to you, mama, always remember that I love you and my boys more than anything, I do.'"

The note was unsigned. Smith told officers that Dunbar's wife, Billie, lives at Jacksonville, Ark., and that Dunbar has two children, one about five years old and the other eight.

Shortly before Lankford was shot a report was broadcast that two men had buried a liquor store on state highway 5. The report said the thieves had taken between $800 and $1,000 worth of whisky, cartons of cigarettes and some cigars.

The car in which Dunbar and Smith were riding when Lankford stopped them was found abandoned this morning in a rural area. It contained the whisky and cigarettes stolen from the liquor store, according to Chief Deputy Sheriff Monroe Love.

Lankford told Police Chief Marvin Potts that Dunbar shot him when he ordered Smith to open the trunk lid.

AN ANNOUNCEMENT OF IMPORTANCE TO THE MONROE AREA

On Wednesday, May 22, the Ouachita Parish Police Jury passed a resolution declaring that all Saturdays would be holidays in this parish, effective June 1.

All banks in Ouachita Parish will remain open during regular business hours each Monday through Friday, and in addition will reopen each Friday at 3 p.m. and remain open for business until 6 p.m.

The new schedule will actually provide more banking hours for our customers, since all banks have agreed to forego many of the lesser holidays formerly observed. The number of holidays will be reduced from 16 to 5.

Henceforth, only New Years, July 4, Labor Day, Thanksgiving, and Christmas will be holidays in this parish.

The new Friday banking hours will be followed for the first time today, Friday, May 31, and the first non-banking Saturday will be tomorrow, June 1.

Through these new hours, your banks hope to end the confusion and inconvenience caused by repeated closings for unfamiliar minor holidays.

NO COMMENT

By JAMES W. DOUTHAT
WASHINGTON, May 30 - (Special) — Labor union politicians, both in and out of Congress, are maneuvering to protect unions from legislation with real teeth in it to cure abuses publicized by the Senate rackets committee.

Many bills pending in both Senate and House are designed to reach basic causes of union monopoly and corruption. Bills which, some members of Congress say, would quickly solve basic problems, include: (1) making unions subject to monopoly provisions of anti-trust laws; (2) permitting states to enact labor laws unless Congress pre-empts the field; (3) abolishing compulsory unionism.

WELFARE FUND LEGISLATION — Instead of moving in this direction, the Senate Labor Committee is now considering welfare and pension fund legislation declared by students of the subject to be wholly inadequate to protect union members.

The Douglas bill before the committee was originally proposed to require publicity and federal supervision for union-dominated pension and welfare funds. But it was altered to bring in employer funds, which had not been involved in racketeering charges.

Thus, it is argued, a plan to cure some abuses in unions is now changed to greatly expand federal power over business.

Representatives of business have pointed out to the committee that some states have far-reaching laws against fraud and abuse of welfare, pension and trust funds—and a model state law is being urged on all.

WHERE CONGRESS FAILED — One reason for the proposal for federal legislation is that the Taft-Hartley law required unions to file financial reports with the Department of Labor, but did not require publicity, nor did it impose a duty on the Secretary of Labor to investigate truth or falsity. This, at least, is the Labor Department's interpretation of the law. Some Congressmen dispute it.

Secretary of Labor Mitchell now is asking a law which would require publicity, give the department sweeping powers to investigate, and provide stiff penalties for making false reports.

Recognizing that punishment of Dave Beck does not offer the protection needed by rank-and-file union members and the public, Chairman Barden (D-N.C.) of the House Labor Committee has proposed a much broader program of legislation.

Mr. Barden proposed hearings on the following matters: (1) a bill-of-rights for individual union members, which would involve regulating union elections; (2) permitting states to handle labor matters which the National Labor Relations Board does not handle; (3) giving the Secretary of Labor authority to investigate accuracy of union financial reports; (4) providing for mandatory publicity on union reports now filed with the Labor Department; (5) establishing federal control over both union and employer welfare funds.

TAFT-HARTLEY LAW INVOLVED — Revision and strengthening of the Taft-Hartley Act strongly urged by many business groups — is involved in the hearings by the House Labor Committee.

Members recalled that when the law originally was enacted, the House proposed a bill-of-rights to protect individual union members. This now would require amendment of the Taft-Hartley Act.

Proposals to this end include a requirement for regular union elections, the secret ballot, preventing union heads from using union funds for their own campaigns, and prohibiting union heads from taking over local funds at will.

MC CLELLAN PROPOSALS — Members of Congress who are fearful that union labor maneuvering may prevent really worthwhile legislation are looking forward to proposals of Sen. McClellan (D. Ark.), chairman of the Senate rackets committee.

He has indicated that he will sponsor a bill for the committee, based upon the many disclosures of union racketeering, corruption, political alliances with gangsters and violence.

Plain Talk On Cotton Problems

"Plain talk about what's wrong with the government cotton program," carried in the May 20 issue of Life Magazine, has received the approval of the Monroe office of Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Beane, brokers in commodities and securities.

The brokerage firm has this to say: "Life Magazine hits the nail on the head and says things that have needed saying for a long time about the 'madness' of our federal farm policy."

"Life calls it 'madness' because no one with common sense can endorse a policy under which the government meddles in the affairs of a highly efficient industry, gives it huge subsidies that it does not need, forces it to over-produce and at the same time holds the prices of its products so artificially high that it cannot compete with the rest of the world."

Interesting figures were produced by the local brokerage firm and by the magazine.

We now get more cotton (14,725,000 bales in 1955) from 17½ million acres than we got from 43 million acres in 1930.

Man hours required to produce a bale of cotton have been reduced from 260 in 1950 to 108 now, while the average yield per acre has increased from 157 pounds to 409 pounds.

Because of greatly increased yields per acre, crops keep right on increasing in size, no matter how much the governments cuts back acreage allotments.

Through crop loans, the government guarantees growers about 28 to 34 cents a pound and takes over whatever part of the crop cannot be sold.

Last year's $14,000,000-bale crop was about 50 per cent more than this country can normally use and about half of what the entire free world uses.

The government dumps a large part of this cotton as "foreign aid" and it comes back to the United States as textiles priced so low that our domestic industry cannot compete with them.

The net effect of the government's program is that cotton is strangling itself to death, losing more and more of its market every year to low-priced synthetic fibers.

For years the Farm Bureau, an organization of farmers, has been working in opposition to the government program of strangulation, realizing that if the United States chokes off all foreign purchases by artificially high prices and that if it keeps prices so high that cheap synthetics will be substituted for cotton in this country, the time will come when the demand for cotton will be virtually ended.

This, in effect, would wipe out the entire cotton industry, for even the federal government could hardly continue to pay subsidies indefinitely on an unneeded product.

The government is learning that it cannot repeal the law of supply and demand.

Therefore, it should listen to the sound advice of farmers and others and repeal some of the regulations that are strangling to death the south's most important farm crop.

Anti-Farm Revolt Is Seen

Farmers in the great agricultural regions may not realize it, but the House vote to kill the soil bank is being hailed as a "political revolution." Such organs as the Wall Street Journal are so interpreting it.

This is how the vote is analyzed by Newsweek Magazine in its "Washington Trends" column:

"Politicians finally have recognized that city voters are fed up with paying higher and higher subsidies to farmers. (In one way or another, the government tosses in 42 cents of every dollar the average farmer grosses)."

If this is really true, then farmers should prepare for stormy weather ahead. It will do no good to allege that other groups, such as industry, are also receiving generous government subsidies. The day may have arrived when the politicians figure there is more mileage in catering to the city instead of the farm vote. In view of the great decrease in the rural population, both numerically and proportionately, this may be a good gamble from a vote-getting standpoint.

When both demands for economy and for free enterprise confront a $5 billion a year agricultural subsidy, it isn't hard to see why politicians sharpen their hatchets. Particularly when many farmers are among the most vociferous proponents of these ideals and when such farm organizations as the Farm Bureau have consistently called for flexible price supports.

If the politicians now feel they can axe agricultural subsidies without being tomahawked themselves, the farmers may soon find themselves in a less paternalistic world.

Lesson In Human Nature

The story of Al Einfrank, the big TV loser, is sad enough to make strong men weep. Such misfortunes as he knows shouldn't happen to a dog, though in some degree other mortals know the same suffering every day.

From childhood, Big Al was mad about geography, spending so much time poring over that subject that he learned little about human nature.

Superficially, the choice paid off. Al married and raised a family. It took pride in daddy's knowledge of the great wide world. His fame spread. The inevitable happened. He was invited to test his knowledge on a TV get-rich-quick program.

Up to $32,000 he did beautifully. Not only did he know the pay-off answers, but quite suddenly he became a local lion. His family and neighbors made big plans to spend his winnings. Cousins and other relatives he had never met came around to get acquainted. Everyone in his orbit had the gladhand for good old Al.

"This ad was sent in a plain white envelope and was unsigned. 'Well, the girl took the hint and improved as regards her 'B.O.' But she became suspicious and afterwards began to draw within her shell."

"So one of them sent her an advertisement about deodorants, which had been clipped from a newspaper. This ad was sent in a plain white envelope and was unsigned. 'Well, the girl took the hint and improved as regards her 'B.O.' But she became suspicious and afterwards began to draw within her shell."

"So do you believe that anonymous advertisement was to blame? One of the girls confessed to me later that she had mailed the ad, and now she feels responsible for this girl's breakdown. What do you think?"

So, Ted Yates Jr., says: "Our function is not to hurt anyone for any reason. We're trying to show a real slice of American life. And Mickey Cohen and what he represents is a slice of American life whether we like it or not."

If Mr. Yates wants to cut the American population pie, Mickey Cohen and "what he represents" is not a slice of American life, but a crumb, a crummy crumb of it. Why did Mr. Yates not put on his show the men who blinded Vic Riesel and did not even know who he was? Their objectivity was superb. They would blind anyone if there was a buck in it for them. They did not love or hate Riesel; they did not know him. They did not even know his name. They just got some dough to put acid in his eyes. Isn't it reasonable for a man to earn a living?

Are we to believe that no brilliant showman has found a way to put them on television to let them tell what a slice of American life they are?

Look, Mr. Yates, I have news for you. Every city has a sewer, a foul-smelling, ugly sewer full of dirt. The sewer is not uncovered for anyone to know that it is in. It is possible to have a city without a permit him to practice his mis-surprise guest and the "$64,000 sewer.

"I'm Just A Poor Little Girl Who's Been Abandoned"

BASCOM TIMMONS

President's Request For Item Veto Power Is Unlikely To Be Granted

The item veto is up again, and President Eisenhower could scarcely have picked a worse time to appeal for its enactment. Even the subcommittee of the House Judiciary committee, headed by Rep. Edward E. Willis (Dem., La.) which is conducting hearings on a number of bills proposing the veto power, isn't exhibiting much interest.

The item veto, which most presidents in the last 75 years have sought, would permit a president to veto any item in an appropriation bill. Now he has only the power to veto the whole bill not individual sections, or items.

President Eisenhower specifically asked that he be given the item veto power on April 1 in a letter to speaker Sam Rayburn. Recently he made the same request in a message to a regional Republican meeting in New Jersey, calling the item veto "a simple way to save a lot of money," and enable him to achieve some "serious expense cutting."

All of the requests for item veto power made by Presidents, congressional leaders on both sides are agreed that Ike will have the most difficult time making a case for himself. The most obvious question which presents itself is why he did not do the item paring before he sent the budget to Congress.

Since the veto authority does not include power to increase appropriations, the President in effect would be trimming his own budget, after many speeches urging that it not be cut, followed by a change of front in which he conceded that it be substantially cut.

Other Presidents have asked for the item veto power to cut from appropriations bills items inserted by Congress for alleged political or pork barrel reasons. In that respect, several presidents have been able to make a pretty good case for the item veto, especially when their own party was in control of Congress.

If it wished, Congress could draft appropriation bills with an enacting clause which would authorize the President to cut any item he saw fit. That this has been done only once, in 1876, indicates that Congress has not been keen about the idea.

The Congressional viewpoint is well established. Republicans and Democrats alike even with big majorities in Congress and a President of their own party in the White House have said that the power which gives the individual veto would be unconstitutional, giving the head of the executive branch of the government authority which the founding fathers never he should have.

Unquestionably, the party leaders say, it would give whoever might be President a club to be used in several ways — to punish individual members of Congress, to exercise a monarchical authority over expenditures and to play politics.

Last year the President vetoed the entire flood control and waterways bill, including authorization for expenditures of more than 1.6 billion dollars. Of this amount all but 1.5 billions was for flood control projects.

In a record flood year, particularly in the Southwest, his sweeping action of 1956 has been called by some bitterness by many Democrats. At the time, Eisenhower in effect said that he was forced to veto the entire bill in order to block some unjustifiable projects. That would not have been necessary, he has pointed out since, if the item veto were in effect.

He will have another opportunity this year to veto another flood control and waterway bill, and it is possible that he will do so, as he has never shown much sympathy for the projects recommended by the Corps of Army Engineers.

A recent compilation of foreign non military grants in aid chiefly for new construction, over the past 11 years totalled 16.6 billion dollars, a considerable part of which went for dams and flood control improvements in other countries.

The climate in Congress this year is not good for the item veto.

SYLVIA PORTER

Wave Of Sunday Selling Again Sweeping Country

Last Sunday while I was out for a leisurely drive, I suddenly the house; hardware; all sorts within a few miles of our little place in the country that on this Sabbath day were wide open and into which I could have walked and bought:

The week's groceries and meats; furnishings, rugs, appliances for the house; hardware; all sorts of things for the garden; clothing for any member of the family; etc., etc.

So since Sunday, I've been checking on the meaning of what I saw—and yes, we're smack into it again.

A wave of selling on Sunday is once more sweeping over the country, touching areas from coast to coast.

While figures on how many stores are now going in for Sunday openings can't be obtained, there's no doubt that it's a trend and, says Larry Drake, editor of Chain Store Age, "It hasn't gone as far as I expect it to go."

Right now, in Southern California and South and Central Texas, Sunday selling is especially hot. In Detroit, retailers are fighting bitterly about it.

In the so-called Bible Belt, major campaigns are on to stop it. In as widely separated areas as Arkansas, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, other fights are in full swing.

It has reached the point where some grocery stores report sales on Sunday beat every other day except Friday and Saturday. Clothing and furniture stores that have gone in for vigorous promotions reveal that on Sundays, families come in as a unit and buy heavily. Many car dealers estimate that on Sunday they may do 25 to 50 per cent of a week's business.

This is not just the familiar "pop and mom" store phenomenon. Sunday selling has gone big-time.

The unions don't like it and, says one retail authority, "Where the unions are strong, they're demanding triple time, and even where they're weak they're demanding double or premium time."

But while the merchants are squirming, they're paying the wages and the distaste of union leaders is not stopping the trend.

Church authorities are taking a strong stand against the movement, are denouncing it from the pulpit and urging boycott of the stores.

But as one expert put it cynically "The free publicity is spurring the trend. Business right after church on Sunday is terrific as people stop off on the way home for milk and bread."

Many of the major food chains are resisting the development and, although the National Assn. of Food Chains won't take an official position because it has members on both sides of the argument, its president, John A. Logan, emphasizes, "A large segment of the industry believes that six days offer ample time for people to do their food shopping, particularly with some evenings open."

But the big chains are not just shrugging off the competition. Says the head of one top chain: "I don't believe in Sunday openings, but if competition forces us to follow through as a defensive measure, we'll act."

And opponents are fighting Sunday selling through laws and the courts all over the nation.

But a survey soon to be released by Food Topics indicates the legal picture on Sabbath opening is chaotic. The Florida Supreme Court has just ruled the state's Sabbath laws unconstitutional. In Cincinnati, another court has reaffirmed Ohio's 125-year-old "blue laws." A bill has just been introduced into the Pennsylvania Senate to prohibit Sunday sales. In Little Rock, Arkansas, a long-time foe of the state's Sunday closing law has gone to jail for refusal to obey the ordinance.

Whether it's a legitimate service or not, the fact is many Americans are demanding it. Whether it's "morally" wrong or not, the fact is more and more stores are going in for it.

And once begun, a Sunday opening is hard to eliminate. Said the head of the supermarket where I stopped to buy milk last Sunday, "All I do is break even, but when I tried to close a couple of weeks ago, my customers screamed. I hate this, but I'm doing it."

CONGRESSIONAL QUARTERLY

Philadelphia To Employ Lobbyists In Washington

WASHINGTON, May 31 (CQ)—Philadelphia, the site of the first Continental Congress, has come up with a novel idea for the 85th Congress.

It plans to spend $12,000 for seats in the Third House of Congress — the lobbyists — to reinforce its ex-mayor sitting in the Senate and its six Representatives in the House.

Although other cities have sent people to the Capitol from time to time to look out for their interests, it is believed Philadelphia is the first to hire an outside firm of registered lobbyists. The action could alter the responsibilities of Congressmen if other cities followed suit.

Philadelphia Mayor Richardson Dilworth, a Democrat, contends "our Congressmen are just too busy with committee work and other responsibilities to take care of all those details important to Philadelphia's interest." He says the city fathers agree, predicting they will approve his tentative contract with the firm this month.

And instead of feeling obsolete because of the proposal, Philadelphia's Congressional delegation reacted enthusiastically when Dilworth explained his plan to them over a recent Washington breakfast.

Even Rep. Hugh Scott, the lone Republican in Philadelphia's Congressional delegation, endorsed the lobby idea heartily. He said it was "very desirable" because lobbyists could "pursue things for the city such as urban renewal and dog it along."

Rep. Kathryn E. Granahan, the only woman in the delegation, termed the proposal "an excellent idea. We'll be able to accomplish a great deal more. We just don't have time now to follow up all those things concerning the city. And sometimes things were unwittingly neglected."

The Federal Government has become so complicated, she said, "that you almost need a lobbyist to get things through." She added that she "wouldn't be a bit surprised" if other cities followed suit and hired lobbyists for Washington.

Scott and Mrs. Granahan are the only ones of the six-member House delegation who maintain Washington residences and usually stay in the Capital Monday through Friday. The other four Representatives commute between Washington and their Philadelphia homes and normally spend only part of the work week in Washington. The city's other four Representatives are William A. Barrett, James A. Byrne, Earl Chudoff and William J. Green, Jr., all Democrats.

At the suggestion to Dilworth that maybe Philadelphia wouldn't need to hire lobbyists to pursue its interests if its House delegation stayed in Congress all week, Dilworth laughed and said: "I love our Congressional delegation. You're not going to get me to say anything to get me in trouble with them."

Dilworth said the lobby idea originated with Sen. Joseph S. Clark, Jr. (D) when he was mayor of Philadelphia (1952 through 1955). Dilworth said talks with Mayor Robert F. Wagner (D) of New York reinforced the idea. Dilworth said New York already uses lobbyists in Washington, but a spokesman for Wagner denied this.

Patrick Healy Jr., executive director of the American Municipal Assn., said he knew of no other city in the United States that has hired an outside firm to represent it in Washington over an extended period. San Francisco has a legislative representative in Washington, but he is attached to the City and County of San Francisco as well as the Port of San Francisco.

The firm hired by Dilworth, subject to city government approval, is called National Counsel Associates. It is headed by Maurice Rosenblatt, 41, who was a registered lobbyist for Trans American Airlines, and William L. Sturdevant Jr., 40, who worked for the same firm. They have retained as counsel Harry J. Maginnis, 41, who has registered as a lobbyist for the Associated Third Class Mail Users.

Rosenblatt also is an officer with the National Committee for an Effective Congress, an organization which says its purpose is "to channel practical and direct support toward the election of qualified liberals to the national legislature."

Daily Bible Devotionals

Reprove not a scorner, lest he hate thee: rebuke a wise man and he will love thee. —Prov. 9:8.

Only people of high character appreciate and welcome criticism. This is probably the main reason why even "our best friends will not tell us" about our shortcomings. One great blessing of the Bible is that it can tell us in an impersonal manner where we are wrong. For this reason, many people do not like to read the Bible, for then they clearly see their own image as reflected in the mirror of Bible truth.

Merciful Father, help us to accept just criticism and to measure our characters by the truth of Thy Word. In Christ's name we pray. Amen.

Southern Baptists Rap Violence Against Negro

CHICAGO, May 30 (AP)—A Southern Baptist commission tonight protested against violence against Negroes by segregationists and called on law enforcing agencies to "bring to legal justice the perpetrators of these crimes."

The commission said law enforcement agencies should protect Negroes "or any other individual or group who seeks to live in a chosen community as free citizens according to their own convictions and conscience."

The Christian Life Commission registered its protest in a report prepared for presentation tonight to the Southern Baptist convention.

"This commission protests the violence in all its ugly forms that is being used against the Negro people in the current segregation issue or at any other time," the report said. "In recognition of the Negro's rights as a citizen of these United States we call upon the law enforcement agencies of local, state and national governments to protect him, irrespective of his position or culture, from lawless attacks upon his person or property."

"We believe our nation cannot long endure these lawless attacks made upon the person and property of free citizens in contempt of the law and the courts of justice. We therefore, call upon the law enforcement officers and agencies or community, state and nation to bring to legal justice the perpetrators of these crimes, regardless of their positions or influence in the community."

The commission said: "Discriminatory laws are futile. Jim Crow laws cannot solve the race problem. The road toward solution will be found when we find the reasons why they are enacted and tackle those reasons."

The report also opposed suppression of freedom of conscience and expression in religion, saying: "We are witnessing today the betrayal of these freedoms by vocal minorities in some communities and churches who are able to enforce the resignation of pastors and incite retaliations against peaceful citizens who speak or act according to their convictions on racial justice and interracial goodwill."

The report said that "both the voice of God and verdict of history warn us that those who deny these freedoms to others do not long retain them for themselves."

The Southern Baptist denomination in recent years admitted Negroes to its membership. No Negro had an official vote in the convention here, but several "fraternal visitors" were seated among the 15,000 messengers.

The report said that while integration is a problem which requires work by both races toward its solution, "in all cooperation

Chimpanzee Does Monkeyshines On Airlines Plane

KANSAS CITY, May 30 (AP)—Two hours of monkeyshines took place aboard a cargo plane en route today from Detroit to Kansas City.

Running loose inside the plane as it landed was a 75-pound chimpanzee on its way from a pet shop in Philadelphia to a pet shop at Santa Cruz, Calif.

The crew of the Slick Airlines craft said the chimp broke out of its cage when they were 20 minutes out of Detroit.

A relief crew, two freight handlers and Roger Haley, Dallas, Tex., regional manager of Slick, spent 20 minutes chasing the monkey through the plane after it landed before they were able to lure the animal into a cage.

Four Armed Convict Escapees Surrender After Lake Chase

ONWARD, Miss., May 30 (AP)—Four armed penitentiary escapees, weary from five days of running and hiding, today surrendered peacefully to manhunters who chased them into a lake.

The tip-off that led to their capture came when Gus Dorsy, a Negro sportsman club manager, told officers he returned from escorting his children to school and found the fugitives eating breakfast in his cabin.

When officers arrived, the convicts had fled. Bloodhounds chased the knife-carrying quartet into Lake Chatard where they were trapped.

Penitentiary Supt. Bill Harpole, who headed the search continuously and almost without sleep, whisked the four back to the prison's maximum security unit.

They were Albert Estes, 42, 199 years for armed robbery and kidnap from Winston County; Francis Abney, 31, five years for grand larceny from Chickasaw County; John Cornette, 26, 25 years for armed robbery from Tallahatchie County; and Billy Dean Bramlett, 34, life for the 1947 Lake bank robbery.

They were captured about five miles from the spot where they abandoned their getaway car Saturday evening.

Harpole said the four fled the prison farm Saturday afternoon while on a trash-removal detail. They threatened their guard with knives, kidnaped him and fled in his automobile.

They tied him to a tree near Glen Allan, 85 miles to the southwest, and continued their flight to near Onward where they abandoned the car.

ON PAY SITUATION

Rainach Urges Teachers To 'Leave Well Enough Alone'

By W. B. RAGSDALE JR.

BATON ROUGE, May 30 (AP)—Sen. W. M. Rainach today suggested tax-hunting teachers "leave well enough alone" because their efforts to raise taxes for higher pay made them "targets of opposition instead of sympathy."

"The taxpayers already are taxed up to the hilt," said the Summerfield Senator, an anti-tax leader and strong education supporter.

Rainach said "serious extravagance" in state and federal governments meant a heavy tax bite out of the average person's paycheck and it was time now to "eliminate deadwood in every state operation, to increase economy and institute maximum efficiency."

"I have talked to people in education and advised them we already are doing a splendid job for education in this state," he said in an interview. "If leaders in education continue to insist on more taxes, and get themselves further out of line with the economy of the state, they may jeopardize the position that they have."

The House of Delegates of the Louisiana Teachers Assn. meets here Saturday to consider a united School Committee plan to seek a special session to enact a 1½ cent per 1,000 cubic feet increase in the one-cent gas gathering tax.

The estimated 25 million dollars increased revenue would be used to fully implement the 1956 salary schedule, okayed by the Legislature which killed a higher gas gathering tax to finance it.

The schedule is only about half provided for in the 411-million-dollar general appropriations bill which received final passage Tuesday in the Senate. It awaits Gov. Earl Long's signature.

Long has indicated he would call a special session if teachers could show the required two thirds support in House and Senate. He stressed he personally was not pushing any tax. The governor was defeated last year in a bid to raise taxes.

Continental Bus Strike Seen Today

DALLAS, May 30 (UP)—The strike of approximately 500 Continental Bus System employees apparently will begin on schedule at 3 p.m. Friday after negotiations between the company and union remained stymied today.

A company spokesman said late today there had been no further talks and there was no prospect that there would be in time to avert the halting of service over part of Continental's 5,000 miles of routes in Texas, Oklahoma and Colorado.

Cities directly affected by the strike will be Houston, Corpus Christi, San Antonio, Dallas, Austin, Fort Worth, Wichita Falls and Amarillo. Some 2,500 Dallas area commuters will be among those affected.

The strike, voted for Wednesday by members of bus employees' local 1142, grew out of the union's attempt to get a 20-cent-per-hour pay hike for some 300 hourly paid maintenance workers and one cent per mile increase for 210 drivers.

The company spokesman said the union rejected two offers. The last one was a three-year contract with an increase of the basic wage rate for driver from the present 7 cents per mile to 7.35 cents the first year, 7.45 the second and 7.55 the third plus cost of living.

For hourly rated workers the company proposed raising the present $1.62 to $1.69 the first year, $1.71 the second and $1.75 the third, plus cost of living increases.

The company spokesman said service on associated continental lines not affected by the strike includes that to Texarkana, Shreveport, La. and Denton and El Paso and the West Coast and to St. Louis and New York.

Two Men Hurt In Accidents

Two Louisiana Department of Highways employees were injured early Thursday afternoon, while surveying land near Cheniere for the proposed new super-highway system.

Ray Walkner, 17, of Leesville, was cut on the left shoulder by a brushhook, and some of the other employees were taking him to receive first aid, when Warren Smith, 23, of Crowley, tripped over an old fence lying on the ground, and fell. A brushhook he was carrying cut a severe laceration lengthwise into the muscle of his left arm.

Both men were rushed to St. Francis hospital where they received emergency treatment.

IN CUSTODY

Failure to appear in court on a charge of driving while intoxicated placed a Monroe man in the city jail. Returned to police custody yesterday by his boss, man was Vernon B. Lee of 2502 S. Grand street. Other police arrests included one man who was charged with house - to - house soliciting, and five for public intoxication.

MAN ROBS DOGHOUSE

ALEXANDRIA — UP — Police today looked for a burglar who ransacked a place called Little Joe's Doghouse. The thief emptied the cash register during the night, and also took the coins out of the juke box and pinball machine.

WEARY CAPTIVES—These four penitentiary escapees ended a five-day manhunt when they surrendered yesterday after being chased into a lake. They are Francis Abney, 31, five years for grand larceny; Billy Dean Bramlett, 34, life for bank robbery; Albert Estes, 42, 199 years for armed robbery and kidnap; and John Cornette, 26, 25 years for armed robbery. Rep. L. D. Napper of Lincoln sought favorable approval on the Louisiana Tech funds, explaining a 37-acre tract adjoining the present campus will be converted into a subdivision in the fall unless the state purchases the property.

He said it is the only land available for enlarging the Tech campus.

Rep. Sam Cashio, appropriations committee chairman and administration floor leader, objected to Faulk's move to have the committee rejection overturned.

"It opens the door," he said, "to let one member of this House invade the general fund."

Cashio also objected to Gibbs' move, saying "We're talking about $400,000 appropriated from the general fund. All these matters were passed on wisely. Go along with your committee."

Gibbs told the House he thought the governor would sign the bill if it were passed.

"All this does," Gibbs said, "is match 60 per cent of federal money that is waiting to be matched and provide health centers in the 23 parishes."

Rep. Lawrence Gibbs of Monroe also failed in an attempt to have a committee rejection overruled. The House voted 56-16 to uphold the appropriations group in killing the $400,000 bill for the health centers.

"All this does," Gibbs said, "is

Girl Is Bitten By Cottonmouth While Swimming

"I was on the ladder at the pier on Bayou Desiard, with my legs in the water, and I felt something prick my right leg. At first I thought it was my brother — we were seeing who could stay under water longest, and it felt like fingernails cutting me. Then I looked and realized it wasn't him," related pretty Karen Kirsti, 14-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Kirsti of Bon Aire Drive, who was bitten by a water moccasin snake Thursday afternoon.

"Then I wondered if it might have been insects or a snake, and when I saw the marks, I decided that I'd better tell my parents that a snake had bitten me," she continued.

Mr. C. W. Calk, of Bon Aire Drive, a neighbor of the Kirsti's, immediately put a tourniquet on the girl's leg, a few inches above the bite near her ankle, and her parents rushed her to St. Francis hospital.

The bitten area was cut out and Karen was given an anti-venom shot and hospitalized.

The mishap occurred at 5 p.m., while Karen was on a swimming party with her family and several friends, at Edgewater Gardens.

"I swim in the bayou very often, and I've seen lots of snakes there, but none ever bite me before," Karen who, is a freshman at Neville High school, added.

Lee M. Huey Dies At Home

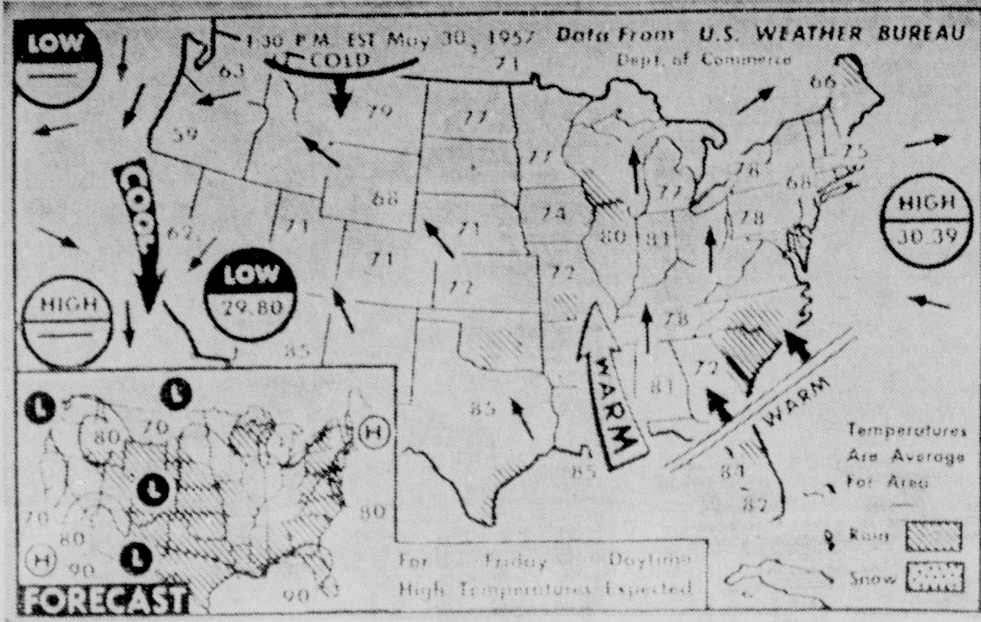

PIONEER (Special) — Lee M. Huey, 61, of Pioneer, died last night at his residence. He was a resident of West Carroll parish for 34 years.

Funeral services will be held at 10 a.m. Saturday at the home with Rev. Floyd O'Neal officiating.

Interment will follow in the Old Forest cemetery.

Survivors include two brothers, O. E. Pioneer, and Luther, Longview, Tex.; two sisters, Mrs. Laney Howard, Ferriday, and Mrs. Dora Mae Henderson, Pioneer, several nephews and nieces.

Services are under the direction of Gay Funeral home of Oak Grove.

WEATHER FORECAST—Showers and scattered thunderstorms are forecast Friday for the Appalachians, southern areas of Middle Atlantic states, the Carolinas and Florida. Like weather is forecast for Gulf states, the Great Plains and the Rockies. It will be warmer in the northeast and slightly cooler in northern tier from Minnesota to Idaho. (AP Wirephoto Map)

Moore said that his men had been working within two miles of the wreckage during the time Mrs. Lemasurrier was stranded. "If she had left her husband and walked straight down the mountain she would have hit our camp," he said.

Dr. Robert D. Paul said Mrs. Lemasurrier was suffering from exposure and was going into a state of shock.

"She has a good chance of survival," he said.

Moore said that Mrs. Lemasurrier apparently was unhurt in the crash. Her husband was president of Duluth radio station KDAL.

The plane disappeared May 11.

This church, a two story structure with church and Masonic hall combined, was organized January 25, 1845.

Speakers for the anniversary will be the Rev. T. O. Arrington and the Rev. A. A. Calhoun.

There will be held on the huge table which is reported to be 200 feet long and located under shady oaks a great dinner party after the morning service.

There will be old-fashioned singing immediately before the 11 o'clock preaching service. In the evening there will be a resumption of the singing, states the pastor, the Rev. A. A. Calhoun of Columbia.

The entire community suffered an irreparable loss in the death of a young, vigorous and constructive community leader as well as capable physician in the death at 38 of Dr. Roy Robertson.

He was active in his church, St. Paul Methodist, and especially was he a leader in the local Y.M.C.A. He had from its inception proved one of the most consecrated, far looking exponents of the "Y".

At this time he is seemingly irreplaceable for with the great program of building that the "Y" here plans he was one of the most important leaders on whose shoulders a great amount of work was to be imposed.

The past year he served as president of the Y.M.C.A. here, was member of its board of directors, and of the Southern area council of directors.

Cat In Furnace Causes Stir In W. M. Home

West Monroe firemen worked for an hour yesterday afternoon to free a yowling tomcat from a floor furnace in a West Monroe residence.

Seems the feline had an urge to explore, prowled under the house, and managed to squeeze itself up into the floor furnace.

Once in, it couldn't get out, either through its entrance route or through the grating which led into the house.

The residents, in desperation, finally summoned the firemen, who saw no other escape for the animal but through the outside of the furnace — so they removed it and let the cat, which let its curiosity get the better of him, out.

Firemen noted that this was the second cat — furnace incident this month, and hoped that in the future the four-footed prowlers would select more conventional areas to creep into than floor furnaces.

That reunification of Germany is impossible unless Germany is demilitarized and neutralized, and Adenauer agrees to negotiate directly with the East German government.

Likely To Agree

Moscow is likely to agree to the proposed four-power foreign ministers parley, but it is unlikely to agree to discuss German reunification without the participation of the East German government.

These views made it obvious there would be no swift developments at the current United Nations disarmament subcommittee talks, which involve the United States, Britain, France, Canada and Russia.

The talks resumed this week and U.S. Delegate Harold Stassen returned from Washington with the latest American plans for open-skies aerial inspection of military installations.

These were presented to the British, French and Canadian delegates, and have been explained to the NATO council in Paris.

Translator For 'Voice' Found Slain

left for Miss Hough's apartment about 8 a.m.

Didn't Want To See Him
"She didn't want him to come over," Mrs. Abdusheli told reporters, "but he insisted on going."

At 9:15 a.m., a representative of the Evening Star stopped by Miss Hough's apartment to get a photograph of her father. The Star man, William R. Basham, said she appeared to be under the normal strain associated with a death in the family.

At 9:32 a.m. the man in the next apartment, P. D. Tilestone, heard a shot.

At 9:43 a.m. Lt. Lawrence K. Hartnett of the homicide squad said Miss Hough called police headquarters and said: "Please come quietly. There has been a shooting at the Woodner. It is not a suicide."

Police found the body of Abdusheli lying on the couch with seven bullet wounds. Coroner A. Magruder MacDonald said any one of several of the wounds could have caused death.

There were three wounds in the chest, two in the back, one in the temple and one bullet had gone through an arm.

Miss Hough gave a mixed-up account. At first, police quoted her as saying Abdusheli had been annoying her, making "advances."

Lt. Hartnett said she told him she fired the first shot into Abdusheli's back, while he stood looking out a window. Then—"I couldn't stand to see him suffering, so I shot him through the head as he lay there."

Miss Hough was questioned for two hours in her apartment and then taken to police headquarters. Coroner MacDonald set an inquest for tomorrow morning.

Arraigned before U. S. Commissioner James F. Spain, Miss Hough was charged with first degree murder and the case was continued until June 13. She was lodged in the District of Columbia jail.

FOUND DEAD — Zurab Abdusheli, a Russian writer for the Voice of America, was found fatally wounded today in the apartment of a 42-year-old secretary. Police said they were questioning Miss Edith Louise Hough in connection with the shooting. (AP Wirephoto)

The death weapon was described by police as a 25-caliber automatic pistol bought by Miss Hough on May 3, 1956 with the explanation she needed it for "home protection."

In addition to being a secretary for the investment firm of Van Cleef, Jordan, Wood and Davidge for many years, Miss Hough was a free-lance writer.

She was born in Washington and was graduated from Radcliffe College, Cambridge, Mass. She is about 5 feet, 5 and weighs 130 pounds.

Abdusheli, a refugee, came to the United States seven years ago from the Soviet Republic of Georgia. He has been a $6,050-a-year employee of the Voice of America helping to prepare broadcasts in his native language.

Mrs. Abdusheli is also a native of Soviet Georgia, but she told reporters she has been living in America since she was a child. Her home was in New York.

city, newspaperman Art Gatts said.

A heavy rain, hail, lightning and wind storm swept through the Wichita Falls area at about 6 p. m. flooding streets and knocking out windows as 1.23 inches of rain dropped in 40 minutes.

Thick Hailstones
Hailstones, three-fourth to one-inch in diameter, knocked a hole in the roof at KFDX-TV and shattered windows. All downtown streets were flooded.

Jagged lightning flashed down to do minor damage in at least three instances. One bolt struck the home air conditioner of Vic Kaufold and set some furniture on fire. Another streak of lightning did minor damage to brick work at the West-tax Seat Cover Co., and a third bolt set a telephone pole on fire.

Radio Station KWTF was knocked off the air by power failures during the storm six times. The weather bureau reported that .75 inch fell in the first 15 minutes of the storm.

One of the tornadoes in North Central Texas was reported at Chico, some 35 miles northwest of Fort Worth. Officers said it must have struck in open country as they could find no evidence of a tornado touching down.

Funnels Sighted
Simultaneously the weather bureau reported funnels north of Bridgeport and Decatur in the same general area and a funnel cloud was also reported between Weatherford and Axle, Tex., moving toward Axle.

Heavy rains, up to cloudburst proportions in some cases, fell on the area threatened by the twisters.

At Amarillo 1.25 to 2 inches of rain fell within 30 minutes flooding streets and stalling automobiles. There was some hail, but it caused no damage.

Lightning struck the house of Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Owens, burning a 12 by 36 inch hole in the wall, but not injuring the couple or their two children who were in the room.

Power Lines Out
Power lines of Southwestern Public Service Co. serving Palo Duro state park and a large area south of Canyon were knocked out. A rain front moving east over the Panhandle dumped .75 inches of rain at Canyon.

The Lake Bridgeport and Eagle Mountain Lake area northwest of Fort Worth was under a heavy rainfall at 9 p.m. and severe lightning could be seen northwest of Fort Worth indicating the squall front was nearing that North Central Texas city.

The two lakes, which feed the West Fork of the Trinity River, responsible for the disastrous week end floods at Fort Worth, were still brim full from earlier rains.

Picked up Tree
As tornadoes continued to appear through the North Central Texas area, the Texas Electric Company reported that a small one moving southeast swooped down a mile east of Wink in West Texas and picked up a tree, breaking off several limbs.

The Ground Observer Corps reported a tornado on the ground moving through heavy rain four miles southwest of Post, Tex.

The new weather forecast called for severe thunderstorms in the northern half of North Central Texas until midnight Thursday. The approximate area is along and 100 miles south of a line from 60 miles east northeast of Sherman, Tex. to 25 miles southwest of Wichita Falls, Tex.

Fear American Students Held By Hungarians

VIENNA, May 30 (UP)—Two American students were feared missing since Sunday were feared today to have been kidnapped by Hungarian police.

Austrian police identified the two as Myron A. Gilbert, 20, and Warren William Hair, 20. Their hometowns were not available immediately.

An official of the police detachment in Burgenland province bordering Hungary said an Australian girl, tentatively identified as Buy De Peron, reported the two young men missing.

The spokesman quoted the girl as saying Gilbert told her to go to the police and the American embassy if he and his companion had not returned from a Hungarian border trip by Tuesday.

said first the man must realize his military duty; secondly, the duty according to his classification that of an officer or otherwise. He compared the two military duties to "duty of citizenship" and "duty to one's own special interests." to "his family, loved ones, profession."

Man Land Animal
"Man is a land animal," Admiral Goodwin stated, "and has two environments—the air and the sea. The success of his survival is his ability to adjust."

The Admiral advised to "keep flying speed" and secondly to "do your job despite being seasick." Admiral Goodwin will be retired in a special ceremony as commander of Naval Forces, Continental Air Defense Command at Colorado Springs.

Last night's Neville graduation was not only highlighted by the Admiral's ironical twist of high school achievement, but was impressive in a near-packed auditorium.

Dressed in white dinner jackets and evening dresses, the seniors marched arm-in-arm and blown with pride to the Neville band music of "Pomp and Circumstance."

Two seniors were recognized as recipients of the annual American Legion Award, presented from the L. B. Faulk Post by Fred Fudickar, Jr.

They were Miss Nancy Beard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Beard, and Jimmy Aul, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Aul.

Richard Ringheim, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Ringheim, received the Daughter's of the American Revolution award for achievement in the study of history.

Also on the speaker's program were Martha Riser, valedictorian, and Alice Guyton, salutatorian. Those recognized as Sigma Sigma graduates for maintaining a "B" average follow:

Martha Riser, Alice Guyton, Sally Hinkle, Margaret Killen, Mary Elizabeth Webster, Mary Wilson, Jimmy Godfrey; Lynn Ethridge, Ingrid Peterson, Richard Ringheim, Beverly Rushing, Alice Loper, Sue Stubbs, Nancy Beard, Betty Mantrozos, Betty Shirley, Emily Ensinger, Ann Bellan; Joan Mahaffey, Dan Bates, Frances Shirah, Sylvia Gentry, Nat Troy, Kay Perkins, John Hannah and Frank Brookings.

Graham Raps Apathy Toward U.S. Veterans

By GEORGE CORNELL

NEW YORK, May 30 (UP)—Billy Graham told a Memorial Day crowd of 17,500 tonight that it "seems as if nobody cares" about disabled veterans who paid their high price for America's freedom.

In hospitals across the country, he said, "they go unnoticed. We seldom think of them."

"The average American does not know the conditions, physical and mental, of these men who fought for the freedoms we enjoy—the freedom we have to be here in the Garden tonight worshipping Jesus."

Despite the holiday exodus from the city, Graham's congregation stayed up near the capacity of the big Madison Square Garden arena.

In the opening part of the sermon, he related some of his experiences in visiting GIs on the Korean battlefield.

"I want to pay my tribute to those men and others," he said, "and to thank God for them forever."

61 Stricken By Food Poisoning In Illinois Town

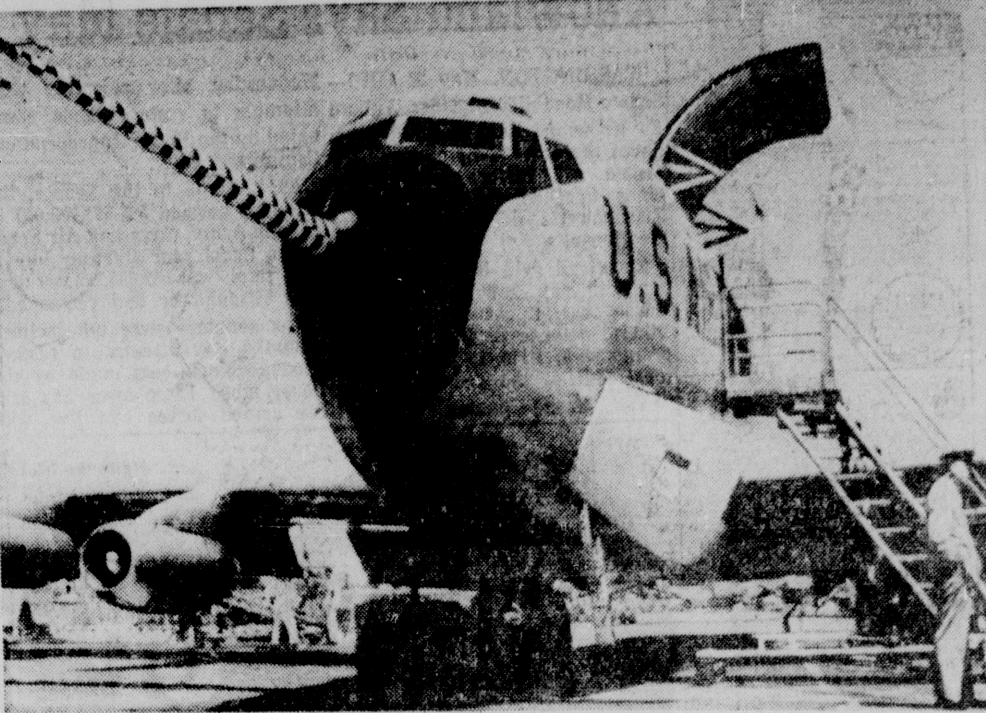

LIBERTYVILLE, Ill., May 30 (UP)—A mass epidemic of food poisoning, apparently caused by a cream cheese made of goat's milk, overcame at least 61 persons at a massive Serbian monastery picnic today.

A fleet of ambulances, police and sheriff's cars, buses and private automobiles rushed the sufferers to hospitals in at least five cities and towns, including Milwaukee.

About 1,000 persons from Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin were gathered for the Memorial Day feast at the Serbian Orthodox Monastery four miles outside of Libertyville when the epidemic hit.

The monks, their guests and even children fell to the ground, vomiting and holding their stomachs as severe stomach cramps wracked their bodies. Witnesses said they "dropped like flies and rolled on the ground."

Others who had appeared to escape the epidemic were stricken as they drove home. They stopped their cars in the middle of the street and called the nearest hospital.

Rock Climber's Body Recovered By Rescue Team

SHIPROCK, N.M., May 30 (UP)—The broken body of a Seattle, Wash., rock climber was taken from a ledge of historic Shiprock Mountain by a rescue team today.

Bernard E. Topp, 22, a soldier stationed at Red Canyon Army range post near Carrizozo, N.M., fell 900 feet to his death from near the top of the 1,700-foot sandstone pinnacle on the Navajo reservation desert in northwestern New Mexico Wednesday night.

With him were two experienced rock climbers.

A coroner's inquest which was held at the scene of the death termed it an accident.

Topp was reported to have fallen when a teton, used to hold a rope secure while traversing a sheer rock face, pulled loose. He died immediately.

Authorities said Topp landed on a ledge a few hundred feet above the desert floor, but it took a rescue team of veteran mountain climbers to bring the body out on a wire litter about 2 p.m. (MST).

Britain's Plan To Hike Trade In China Hit By U.S.

WASHINGTON, May 30 (UP)—The United States said today that Britain's "disappointing" decision to engage in freer trade with Red China will speed an industrial buildup on the Chinese Communist mainland.

The State Department said Britain's relaxation of trade curbs, announced to the British Parliament early today, will give China easy access to such vital equipment as tractors, trucks, locomotives and generators.

The British action put net steam behind a Senate investigation aimed at determining why the United States is "out of step" with many of its allies on the politically touchy issue of trade with Red China.

A special subcommittee on foreign commerce was set up just nine days ago to look into this nation's continued ban on all trade with Red China. Subcommittee Chairman Warren G. Magnuson (D-Wash.) conceded then it would rekindle the old controversy over China trade.

Many members of Congress vigorously oppose any easing of the U.S. restrictions. Magnuson said, however, that "we can't keep 400-million people behind an economic bamboo curtain forever, just because we don't like the policies of their government."

Fleet-Footed Terrier Caught After 6 Days

NEW YORK, May 30 (UP)—A fleet-footed Bedlington terrier that eluded capture during six days on the loose at Idlewild Airport was captured today because she was not much of a swimmer.

The dog, whose pedigree name is "Foggyurze Sugar Baby," but which answers to the name Candy, was captured in the waters of Jamaica Bay.

Candy took it on the lam last Friday night a few minutes after arriving here by transatlantic airliner from London. The dog was bound for a new home in Houston, Tex., with chemist Verden Wilson.

For six days airport authorities, police and animal experts pursued Candy, but she managed to out-manuever them. Then today, she took to the waters of Jamaica Bay with airplane maintenance worker Vitautes Rapp in hot pursuit.

Rapp could run faster than Candy could swim and he grabbed her.

A veterinarian said Candy was none the worse for her experience.

Baptists Told Human Liberty In Grave Danger

PHILADELPHIA, May 30 (UP)—A Kansas churchman told the American Baptist Convention today human liberties are in "grave danger in America."

Speaking at the organization's 50th annual meeting, Dr. William Keucher, an executive of the Kansas Baptist State Convention, said pressures toward conformity show an ugly head in religious circles by a desire for creedal conformity and denominational uniformity.

These drivers, he said, posing dangers in the field of religion, education, politics and social relationships.

To meet such pressures, he said, "Baptist need to venture beyond the frontiers of this world's logic into the radical and revolutionary meaning of the New Birth."

Deadline Set For Workers To Return To Jobs

CLARKSDALE, Miss., May 30 (UP)—Employees who walked off their jobs at American Hardware Corporation's Clarksdale plant Tuesday were told today they will lose their jobs if they do not return by 7 a.m. Monday.

After conferences with the New Britain, Conn., owners of the plant, manager William Bollman sent letters to the 68 employees he said have quit work.

The walk-out was said to have stemmed from the discharge of two women employees Monday. However, Fred M. Morton of Memphis, business representative of the International Association of Machinists, said today that "working conditions and slow wages" are the principal factors.

Red China Calls For Formosa To Oust Americans

TAIPEI, Formosa, May 30 (UP)—Communist China sought by propaganda broadcasts today to stir up new anti-American trouble on Formosa. But Chiang Kai-Shek's Nationalist government reaffirmed its intention to see that U.S.-Chinese friendship remains strong.

Peiping radio broadcast editorials calling on Formosans to rise up and drive the Americans off the Nationalist island stronghold.

"Although several days have elapsed since the world-shaking anti-American demonstration in Taipei," said an editorial in the "Peiping Daily Worker," "the flames of anger in the hearts of the Formosan people are far from extinguished."

George Yeh, the Nationalist Chinese foreign minister, expressed appreciation for the "statesmanlike views" voiced by U. S. Secretary of State Dulles at news conference in Washington Thursday.

Yeh declared the policy of his government to achieve the fullest measure of cooperation with the United States is unchanged.

Air Carrying Radiation In West Tracked

LAS VEGAS, Nev., May 30 (UP)—Three air masses carrying "insignificant" amounts of radiation from Tuesday's "series-opener" atomic blast blew along separate paths in the skies over Idaho, Oregon, California and Arizona today.

The Atomic Energy Commission, which this morning postponed the second nuclear "shot" at the 11th hour because adverse winds threatened to blow the atomic cloud over populated areas, said the three invisible clouds of radiation had blown north and west instead of eastward as predicted.

The second shot was re-scheduled for 4:55 a.m. (PDT) Friday and the Atomic Energy Commission said late this afternoon that weather conditions appeared to be favorable for the test. Another weather evaluation was scheduled at 11 p.m. (PDT).

One of the three widely-separated cloud remnants had made a complete loop from the Nevada proving grounds detonation site out to the Pacific Ocean over California and back into Arizona.

Knowland Says Senate May Restore Some Defense Cuts

WASHINGTON, May 30 (UP)—Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland said today he believes there is "some chance" the Senate will restore part of the funds knocked out of President Eisenhower's defense budget by the House.

Knowland said it was still too early to say how much of the House cut might be restored. Other defense-minded senators promised to fight to put back at least half of the reduction.

Wednesday after rejecting GOP attempts to restore funds eliminated by the House Appropriations Committee.

As it came to the Senate, the measure carried $33,562,725,000 to run the Army, Navy and Air Force in the fiscal year starting July 1. The total was $2,563,275,000 less than Eisenhower had requested.

The senators were not inclined to make any attempt to restore "bookkeeping" cuts made by the House since Eisenhower has said the armed forces can live with them. But they did pledge an effort to restore funds the President said are essential to national security.

Chairman Dennis Chavez (D-N.M.) said he was sure his Senate Defense Appropriations Subcommittee will restore any money needed "in the interest of national security."

Chairman Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.) of the Armed Services Committee said he will do his best to reverse any House cuts that "will impair our defense postures in the slightest degree."

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex.) said earlier that the appropriations bill would be studied carefully. He said he opposed any cuts that would endanger the effectiveness of the armed forces.

Pflimlin Lays Down Plan For French Cabinet

By JOSEPH E. DYNAN

PARIS, May 30 (AP)—Pierre Pflimlin, national chairman of the Popular Republican party, today laid down a basic four-point austerity program in his bid to succeed Socialist Guy Mollet as premier.

Moving quickly to attract middle-road support, the leader of the liberal Catholic group — MRP — called for joint crash action on the sagging franc, Algeria, European unification, and constitutional reform.

Delegates to the MRP national convention in Biarritz gave a resounding ovation to the 50-year-old economist, legal and agricultural expert as his keynote speech outlined his policies in an effort to form a stable coalition government.

Pflimlin told the convention that all parties except the Communists and the extreme right-wing Poujadists must join a four-point program:

1. To save Algeria for France and to build a "new" Algeria. Pflimlin said all middle-road parties should be able to agree to carry on the fight as long as necessary against the nationalist rebels, and at the same time achieve political reforms.
2. To "save the franc" and restore public finances by sacrifices — a reference to new taxes.
3. To push European unification. Treaties setting up a continental customs union or common market and establishing joint development of nuclear energy must be ratified before Parliament recesses for the summer, Pflimlin said.
4. To amend the constitution to provide greater governmental authority and stability.

Letter Carriers Of 5th District Hold Convention

The 33rd annual convention of the 5th District Rural Letter Carriers Association was held at the New Friendship Church in Bastrop yesterday.

Mayor A. T. Carter, Postmaster Jones and Rev. C. Gregory extended the greetings of the city, church and local postoffice to the convention.

The business session was carried out under the direction of President Jack Griffon of Lilly. Delegates to the State convention at Grand Isle will be C. R. Griffith and E. F. Brown, both of Chatham.

A basket lunch was served in the church by the host carriers, with Jewel Delamar, A. B. Buford, B. R. Tipton, John T. Williams in charge.

The musical program consisted of piano solos by Searbeth Boughton and Doty Kay Nessinger. Miss Edna Blethen lead the group in singing.

Over 50 carriers and friends attended the meeting.

The group voted to hold the 1958 convention in Delhi.

Okay Contested School Measure

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., May 30 (AP)—The Florida Legislature pushed through on the eve of adjournment today a hotly contested bill to allow residents of any area threatened with racial integration to suspend their schools.

Final action came with 26-11 Senate passage. The House previously passed it 57-36.

The bill faces an almost certain veto from Gov. Leroy Collins, who has opposed doing away with any part of the public school system. He said Florida's 1956 pupil assignment law was adequate to keep schools in Florida segregated.

Atty. Gen. Richard W. Ervin championed the measure which would allow residents of any school district threatened with integration to suspend their schools by referendum. He said it was a "safety valve" which would be used only as a last resort when other means of preventing integration failed.

The pupils could be transferred to other districts, or state funds could be allocated to parents to allow pupils to attend private schools.

Should the legislature adjourn on schedule tomorrow and the governor subsequently vetoes the measure, then it would be left to the 1959 Legislature to consider the veto.

But if the legislature extends its session eight days as the House has proposed, consideration of the veto would come up next week. The governor has five days to act upon a bill after it hits his desk.

Miss Gayle Roark Is Honor Guest At Mother-Father-Daughter Bridal Shower In Herschel Gentry Home

Bride-elect, Miss Gayle Roark was honored by Mrs. Fred Huenefeld, Jr. and Miss Sylvia Gentry with a Mother-Father-Daughter party. This delightfully different bridal party had its setting in the Herschel Gentry home on Country Club road and the guests included the honoree's best friends, their mothers and fathers.

The reception suite was artistically decorated with vases of Spring flowers; one of significance was the floral arrangement of white snapdragons and fern that surrounded a miniature bride.

Miss Roark was becomingly dressed in a blue polished cotton with gardenia corsage, a gift from the hostesses.

YOUR PROBLEMS

Shying Away From Women Is Doing Yourself An Injustice

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann: The letter from "Three - Time Loser" aroused considerable interest among my friends. As a man who was given the axe suddenly and brutally, may I say a word?

When my wife divorced me it was a soul-shaking experience. If I was "spoken for in advance" I'd like to know by whom. It was the wife, in this case, who had "The firm grip on another" before she was ready to let go.

My ex-wife's parting words cut me deeply, and I'll never forget them. "They're your kids and it's up to you to take care of them. I've got what I want."

It's a safe bet that many brothers are drinking from this same bitter cup. And like myself, they are probably still single, obligated, and toiling amidst the wreckage.

"Three - Time Loser" said she wanted to be married again. Of course she does — to a carefree, childless, well-heeled citizen with a mortgage-free home and a big car. You can count on the fingers of one hand, including the thumb, the women who are willing to pitch in and help a man make a life. Believe me, Ann — I know. — Burned and Shy.

Dear Burned and Shy: No one would deny that you've been "burned" — and badly, but because of this experience, if you shy away from all women, you do yourself an injustice.

Don't judge all females by your ex-wife. Even in the animal kingdom, mothers seldom abandon their young. Your ever-lovin' must have been as cold as the

Mrs. E. C. Roark, mother of the honoree, was dressed in blue linen and Mrs. J. Odom, mother of the prospective groom was wearing black crepe.

Mrs. Huenefeld and Miss Gentry invited their guests on the loggia and courtyard where refreshments awaited on a candlelight wrought iron table.

Approximately fifty guests attended the bridal shower.

handles on a steel casket. Be grateful you have the children, for their sake as well as your own.

Life isn't a bed of roses, but neither is it a garbage dump. There are plenty of fine women around who'd be happy to carve out a life with a decent man, plus the mortgage and children.

Raise your spirits and your eyes and you'll find her.

Dear Ann: I'm a woman 34 years of age and have a very difficult decision to make. I have a good job, a nice figure and just naturally attract young fellows because I look 10 years younger than my actual age.

I became acquainted with a shoe salesman last spring and we have a lot in common. He's a swell dancer, likes to bowl and enjoys long hikes in the woods. Three weeks ago I almost fainted dead away when he said the reason he hasn't asked me to marry him is because he can't get his parent's consent. He won't be 21 until December.

I had one unsuccessful marriage and I don't want any part of another one. Do you think there's a chance that we could overcome the age handicap if we set our minds to it? And while you're at it, can you tell me why a fellow 20 would knowingly strike up a romance with a woman 34? I never have lied about my age. Please help me. — Tiger - Lily

This boy probably enjoys doing business with an old established firm. A lad of 20 is too young for a woman 34. You may think love will conquer all, but when you're 42 and he's 28 there'll be differences bigger than both of you.

I can understand the parents refusal to consent to this marriage. If you had a son 20, would you approve of a bride 14 years his senior? Throw the fish back Tiger, — this catch isn't even legal.

Dear Ann: I'm 17 and have a very big problem. My girl friend whom I've been friendly with since grade school, always borrows sweaters, skirts, blouses, and even shoes from me. She forgets to return some things and I have to ask her for them. Also, she has torn and soiled some of my clothes and hasn't even mentioned it. I like this girl very much. She comes from a fatherless family where money is a problem and doesn't have many clothes of her own. I've asked my mother how to handle this problem and she says it's up to me. Any suggestions? — Alice

It's nice to be big-hearted, but don't be a flea-brain. Just because the girl is fatherless doesn't give her a license to be irresponsible and careless with other people's property.

A girl 17 should know how to say "no." If you haven't learned, it's time you did. You do your friend no favor when you allow her to be thoughtless and inconsiderate.

Mrs. G. Lyons Is Hostess To Morning Coffee

Mrs. Gordon Lyons was hostess in her home, on Roselawn, to a coffee, Wednesday morning.

The guests were met at the entrance by the hostess, and invited into the spacious living room, handsomely decorated with bouquets of seasonal flowers and colorful pot plants.

The serving table presented a pretty picture with its centerpiece of asters in pastel tints.

Individual plates of delicacies and coffee were served to: Mrs. Ernest O. Garman, Mrs. J. B. Clements, Jr., Mrs. Victor B. Marsh, Mrs. W. D. Bell, Mrs. James Webster, Miss Renee Bell, Miss Margaret Marsh, Mrs. Loyd Giddings, and the hostess, Mrs. Lyons.

DOTS ARE A KEYNOTE to this season's fashion message from Paris, signaling American women to a new approach to chic. Polka dots add flair and distinction to this sundress, planned as a go-anywhere for the woman whose summer activities are many and varied. This smart sleeveless linen dress features black dots on a white ground trimmed with ball fringe to reiterate the circle motif of the fabric.

Two Broadway Productions Reviewed For Potpourri Final Meeting Of Season

Mrs. Jack Terzia and Mrs. Aage Glud were hostesses to the Potpourri Book Club for the last meeting of the season.

The program consisted of a review of the musical "Fanny" written by Marcel Pagnol and produced on Broadway by Joshua Logan. She played the record album of the original orchestra and stars including Walter Slezacek, Ezio Pinza and Frances Henderson.

Mrs. Jack McCook received the play "Inherit the Wind," written by Jerome Lawrence, and Robert E. Lee. The play is a take-off on the famous Scopes trial between William Jennings Bryan and Charles Darrow.

The following members were present: Mrs. William Parker, Mrs. Stewart Scott, Mrs. Ben Marshall, Mrs. Benton Wakefield, Mrs. Nelson Abell, Mrs. Herbert Breard, Jr., Mrs. Jack Ratliff, Mrs. Jack Easterling, Mrs. Paul Ransom, Mrs. Tommy Holmes, Mrs. Jack McCook, Mrs. Phelps Lyons, and the hostesses Mrs. Terzia, and Mrs. Glud.

Happy Hour Group Have Noon Picnic

Members of the Happy Hour Club of the First Presbyterian Church held their final meeting this week in the home of Mrs. Sam Wilder. The group was organized by Mrs. C. K. Crandall several years ago and has been a source of great pleasure to its members.

The occasion was a picnic with the tables spread underneath the trees over looking the Bayou in Edgewater Garden.

Members and friends attending included Mrs. B. C. Coleman, Mrs. R. B. Garrison, Mrs. H. J. Hunter, Mrs. Fred Meyer, Mrs. Alta Partridge, Mrs. Lucille Humphries, Mrs. C. K. Crandall, Mrs. O. C. Roddey, Mrs. W. B. Matthews, Mrs. I. T. Landry.

Also Mrs. O. N. McNeill, Mrs. Wood Brown, Mrs. J. W. Griffith, Mrs. J. B. Roddey, Mrs. H. D. Cummings, Mrs. W. H. Webster, Mrs. Bessie Shamblin, Mrs. Charles Pauli, Mrs. Laura Zeagler, Mrs. H. C. Wilson, Mrs. Lillian Coons and Mrs. Wilder.

Series Of Services Are Offered

Mrs. Barbara M. Venable has announced a series of service meetings at the Start Homemaking Cottage.

This morning, at ten o'clock, Miss Betty Hodgkins, will demonstrate the newest equipment and present modern trends of remodeling kitchens.

On Friday morning, Mrs. Venable will be at the cottage for consultation regarding problems of sewing, cooking, and any project in the homemaking line.

Tuesday, June 4, at ten-thirty in the morning, Mrs. C. E. McKenzie will demonstrate basic principles of flower arrangements.

A social hour has been carefully planned for those attending.

Opening lead: King of diamonds.

West deliberately discarded an ace in defending against three no trump today to assure defeat of the contract.

The final contract was normal enough, but we see no reason for South's method of approach. Holding a balanced hand with 13 high card points and all suits stopped, he should have bid two no trump immediately. Had he done so, the defense might have developed more to his taste.

West, holding South under suspicion, decided to open the king of diamonds. When East played the trey, West realized that declarer's response had been on the level, so he shifted to the three of hearts.

Declarer won with the queen in dummy and East made the enlightening signal of seven, saying in effect: "I have something good in the suit." Declarer played a low club from dummy in the hope of passing the trick into West's hand, but East put in the jack and declarer played three rounds of the suit. This placed the lead with East, and West had a discard to make.

His one consideration must be to ward off the diamond return which partner almost surely would make if left to his own devices. With a sensitive partner it seems to this department the discard of a low diamond should suggest to partner a loss of interest in that suit and a desire for a heart lead. West realized from partner's play of the seven of hearts that he had the jack and a heart return would settle the issue.

However, he was unwilling to rely on subtleties, so to impress upon partner the futility of a diamond return he discarded the ace. East's play of the jack of hearts then sent the declarer down to a one trick set.

We have since mused over what might have happened had West not made this spectacular discard. No one will ever know. It is significant, however, that East did not act offended at his partner's deliberate squandering of 50 points.

WHY GROW OLD

Teen-Ager Shy
Accepting Date

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Although we may think of teen age as a boisterous, outgoing, fun age, actually it is often a time of extreme shyness. Most teen-agers experience some of this in spite of their bright exterior. Many of them are so self-conscious and unsure that it affects their ability to make friends and therefore their happiness. At no other time does it seem so important to be popular and to "belong to the crowd."

A couple of letters before me highlight the truth of this.

"Dear Mrs. Lowman:

"My girl friends say that I am pretty and likeable, but when a boy asks me for a date I always refuse even if I like him because I know I am not really attractive and, anyway, I am so shy that I would not know what to talk about."

"I know that if I keep this up boys will stop asking me to go out but I just can't seem to get over it. Please help me. I am 15 years old."

Answer

This is an extreme example but I am sure that it is not unusual and that many girls have this experience to a lesser degree. Men never have been famous for dating a wall flower because they felt sorry for her, especially very young men. Therefore, when a boy asks a girl for a date it is sure evidence that he thinks she is attractive. A girl need have no fears on that score.

Conversation improves with practice just as any other art does. You cannot possibly feel at ease as you could unless you practice talking with the opposite sex as well as with your girl friends. Try to forget yourself and think of the boy you are with. Find out what sports he likes, what books he reads, what his general interests are. Talk about school activities will give you a starting point.

Try to forget how you look and what impression you are making. Turn your thoughts toward others. They are probably just about as self-conscious as you are. Make them feel comfortable.

If you would like to have my leaflet written especially for teen-agers send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 53 "Popularity." Address Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Tomorrow: "Weight Gain, Developing Exercises Will Help Her."

Table Arrangements For State Meet

The Garden Gate Garden Club, with Mrs. Harry Stephens president, made the table arrangements for today's luncheon, when the State Federation of Garden Clubs met in Monticello this weekend in convention.

The committee on decorations, headed by Mrs. George Booker, carried out the mood of Crossett's surrounding forests in their arrangements. They have made thirty containers of small gum logs which will hold arrangements of clipped pine tips and yellow field daisies, all found in the forests around Crossett. There were two larger 24 inch pine log containers on the speaker's table, holding the same sort of arrangements of pine tips and daisies.

The club provided favors for three hundred guests for the luncheon. Each guest received a paper bag inscribed "Garden Gate

3 Completions Reported

Three completions and two abandonments were reported, and one new application to drill for oil or gas was filed with the Monroe office of the state Conservation Department yesterday.

The Murphy - Sun Oil Co., Jane Lord No. 2, in the South Big Creek field of Franklin parish, section 20-16-8E was finished May 27, testing 99 barrels of 43.3 gravity oil daily on a 12-64 choke. Production was from perforations at 3616-28 feet with a tubing pressure of 240 pounds and the casing pressure was 95 pounds. Gas-Oil ratio was 454 to 1 and the total depth of the well, 3752 feet.

The Justina field ventures of Magnolia Pet. Co., A. B. Brown No. 1, section 19-12-11E, in Tensas parish was finished May 23, testing 40 barrels of oil daily on a 32-64 choke. The gas-oil ratio was 22-938 to 1, the well was classified as a gasser.

The Feazel, Anderson, Love No. 9, in sec. 7-21-3E was completed May 24 as a gasser in the Monroe field of Union parish. The well tested 219 M.C.F. with a rock pressure of 920 psi. Total depth is 2144 feet.

The following drilling sites were abandoned. The Magnolia Pet. Co. Hugh Junkin No. 17, in sec. 16-6-9E, of N. Ext. Esperance Point field in Concordia parish was plugged May 27 at a depth of 7003 feet. The Union parish wildcat venture of K. W. Kilpatrick J. C. Smith No. 1, sec. 3-23-3W was plugged May 26th at a depth of 4445 feet.

The W. T. Murray, Tr., Zimmerman No. 19, sec. 25-10-1E in the Tullos - Urania field of La Salle parish, located 510 feet east and 100 feet north of the southwest corner of the northeast quarter of the southwest quarter. To be drilled to the top of the Wilcox sand.

Salk Shots Due For Persons In Franklin Parish

WINNSBORO (Special) — Mrs. T. B. Dickey, chairman of the Franklin Parish Polio Chapter, announced that Salk vaccine shots will be given persons between ages 20 and 40, Friday night at the Winnsboro Health Unit.

The polio clinics will be held between 5:30 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. Polio clinics, according to Mrs. Dickey, will be held at the City Hall at Wisner, Community Center at Gilbert and the health clinic at Crowley Monday between 5:30 p.m. and 7:30 p.m.

Charges for the shots will be $1 each, but Mrs. Dickey said that persons not having the fee would receive the shots free - of - charge. Money from the fees will be used to buy more vaccine.

She said 61 shots were given at the Health Unit here Monday night. There is enough vaccine on hand for 2,000 more shots, she explained.

The polio clinics are sponsored by the Franklin parish Medical Chapter, in addition to several Society and Franklin parish Polio civic organizations.

Only One Polio Case Reported Here This Year

Only one case of polio has been reported in Ouachita parish this year, with inoculations against the disease totaling more than 28,000 persons, according to Dr. W. Carroll Summer, director of the parish health unit.

Dr. Summer warned that at this time last year only one case had been reported, but the summer months of July and August brought more.

At least 42 per cent of the school children in the parish received second inoculations this year, with more probably receiving the first shot. Many pre-school age persons were given all three inoculations.

April has been the busiest month for doctors and their assistants, with a total of 14,690 persons receiving polio shots.

While the campaign to reach all persons between six months and 20 years ended early this month, said.

Small Business Official Backs Orleans Tax Bill

BATON ROUGE, May 30 (AP) — Lt. Gov. Lether Frazier today received a telegram urging Senate support for the Beeson-Rau bill stopping New Orleans from collecting its one-cent sales levy on goods delivered outside the city.

The telegram was signed by Joseph D. Henderson, national managing director of the American Assn. of Small Business, Inc., New Orleans.

Henderson urged a favorable vote for the bill, which was opposed by New Orleans Mayor de Lesseps Morrison.

The bill would prevent any municipality or parish from collecting its own sales tax levy on goods delivered elsewhere.

Comin' Up Afield

Enforcement against game violations and prosecution by law have had much to do with the welfare and future of our game and fish, particularly in some parishes where it's a bigger crime to steal a hog than to kill a man.

But regardless of the fairness we refer to when speaking of the long arm of the law and its justice at the end, it appears in some cases the law is twisted to suit a means.

Take for instance last winter in Tensas parish when three men were found guilty of killing an illegal deer. Their fines totaled over $1,000 and one was sent to the well-known "pea farm" in East Carroll parish.

Yet in adjoining Franklin parish, another man killed a doe. He committed the same crime, but was fined only $25, plus $2.50 for costs. In this particular case, his camping partners passed the hat and he got off free-of-charge.

Now where, in between those two extremes of Tensas and Franklin, can we draw the line of justice?

The Louisiana legislature, in its current fiscal session, made at least one step in the right direction by removing the Justice of the Peace from the game picture, voting overwhelmingly to send the game violator directly to court instead of to the JP.

As it had been, so many violators got off with lighter penalties in parishes where the Justice of the Peace was chosen to levy the fine. It'll be interesting to note the first judge who has the gall to fine a man $25 and costs for killing a doe.

But then the law itself sports an interesting twist of irony. Which do we value the most? The life of a man or the life of an animal?

One man died in Tensas last December when he was shot down on a deer stand. No doubt the man who shot him has many times paid the price for the act, but nevertheless, he walked away a free man. That can't be said for one of the three who killed the doe.

Too many are going into the woods to "sound" their game. By that we mean they shoot at movement and sound in the brush. And if they're in the "right" parish, the most they'll get is $25 and costs.

Shouldn't the law be executed more severely in those cases where men lose their lives because of careless acts? After all, we have penalties for reckless driving and negligent homicide for the careless driver who takes a life. Shouldn't the same be enforced on the careless hunter who "sounds" shoots a man?

And if the Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries Commission was its of town, used an injured Minnow in bringing justice to the now and landed a string of nine bass, it would open the door on bass, each weighing over four pounds. Director F. Lamar Clement's "open door" policy and instruct of Ferriday brought in five bass from Lake Concordia, none of them whoppers, but all nice fish. Elsewhere, the bream fishing figures on the so-called "number" arrested in such and such a month.

Or would it be too much to allow the game warden to call a spade a spade and arrest a senator as a senator? Publicity can be embarrassing.

So before we drop to our knees and beg for funds for this and that wildlife project, it seems logical to us that we would be doing best by taking care of what we have.

We might start in the courts, and it would be nice if the Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries Commission would string along.

PRIZES FOR THE BEST

And now let's go fishing! The Ouachita Unit of the Louisiana Wildlife Federation is making it awfully attractive for the fisherman starting tomorrow, June 1st, at midnight, the local club is launching a local looks like will be a successful fishing contest.

Attractive prizes will be awarded to the grand winners in three brackets — the bass, bream and speck. Prizes will go to first, second, and third placers at the end of the contest, September 2 at midnight.

Here's what they already have for prizes: A brand new Evinrude motor, compliments of Oliver's Boat Dock and Bill Minor; a 12-foot Arkansas Traveler, given by Howard Griffin; a complete spinning rod and reel, Haddad Hardware; a life jacket, Hunt and Whitaker; a tackle box, Exchange Hardware; and ice chests, compliments of Coca-Cola, Pepsi-Cola and Dr. Pepper. More prizes are being arranged for.

The contest will be handled from two weigh stations — Milstead's Service Station, 200 block of Louisville, and Oliver's Boat Dock on Black Bayou. Rules for the contest and entry blanks can be picked up at the two stations. And there's one more thing. The local club is conducting this contest to boost its membership. Before you can enter it, you have to join the club. Membership fee is only $2, and if you don't win, at least you'll be a part of a good cause.

BASS IN HIGHWATER

According to reports over the week, the bass fisherman has been enjoying his best luck this spring.

Johnny Danna of Monroe caught seven nice bass on Black Bayou Wednesday. Biggest of the lot was a 3 1/2-pounder. Also of Monroe, Bob Downing and Jerry Hightower caught a string of 11 on Lake Bruin, the average weighing slightly over three pounds.

J. S. Cross of Ferriday, who previously landed a five-pound bass in Lake Concordia, returned to his native country and landed a six-pounder in the bar pits below Vidalia. Robert Wirges of Natchez, Miss., caught an 8 1/2-pounder in the same pits, however.

Biggest tale of the week came from game agent Harvey Spruill at St. Joseph, where he said he legs get a new and bigger stand within the incorporate lim-dium.

COLUMBUS, May 30 (UP)—The drive to keep the Redlegs in Cincinnati received the blessings today of the Ohio Legislature shortly before the body wound up its 1957 working sessions. The general assembly completed passage of a bill designed to help the Redlegs, where he said he legs get a new and bigger stand within the incorporate lim-dium.

White Sox Slam Indians Twice

Hose Hurlers Star At Bat, From Mound

CHICAGO, May 30 (UP)—Ace southpaw Billy Pierce and right-hander Dick Donovan pitched and batted the Chicago White Sox to a double win over the Cleveland Indians today, 6-4 and 2-1.

Donovan went the route and drove in three runs in the opener while Pierce got a three-hitter and singled home the winning run in the nightcap.

The victories stretched the Sox' American League lead to three games and dropped the Indians to third, a game behind the New York Yankees.

Pierce, the winning pitcher in the majors, chalked up his eighth triumph and his fifth in a row. It also was his fourth straight complete game and he now has allowed but one earned run in the last 29 innings.

Donovan, who gained his fourth win against one loss, slapped three singles while his teammates battered three Indian hurlers.

Barclay's 4-Hitter Gives Giants Split

NEW YORK, May 30 (UP)—Curt Barclay pitched a four-hitter for the first complete game of his big league career today to give the New York Giants an 8-1 nightcap triumph after Curt Simmons won his 100th game for the Philadelphia Phillies with a 2-1, 10-inning decision.

Willie Mays smashed a two-run homer and a single in the nightcap to stretch his hitting streak to 18 games.

Legion Juniors Open Season

Monroe Goes To Delhi For Scrap Today

Another American Legion Junior baseball race opens today for the Fifth District of Louisiana with eight of nine contending teams seeing action in games at Delhi, Rayville, Ruston, and Columbia.

The day's card has Monroe's defending district champs visiting Delhi, Bastrop at Columbia, Farmerville at Ruston, and Mer Rouge at Rayville.

West Monroe, idle today, will open at home against invading Rayville on Monday. Other home openers Monday have Ruston at Bastrop, Columbia at Mer Rouge, and Delhi at Farmerville. Monroe, inactive Monday, gets its first home game here Wednesday with Farmerville.

Manager Ralph "Red" Sims has very few of his 1956 district winners back. He'll have a complete new infield and only one returning outfielder — Dan Keith.

The McCain - Richards Motors-sponsored Monroe club has Jim Altick, Louis Kincaid, Freddy Southerland, and L. M. Welch to handle the pitching with Southerland getting Manager Sims' nod as the starter today. Altick is expected to work at first base when not pitching.

Sim's squad shows Willie Raglan, Tommy Crowe, and Neal McDonald, catchers; Bill Rambin and Altick, first base; Billy Roach, second base; Francis Genusa and Larry Tilley, third base; Lanny Johnson and Ronnie McNabb, shortstop; Keith, Freddie Peters, Kincaid and "Doolie" Haddad, outfielders.

The Monroe game at Delhi today is set for 3 o'clock.

The complete league schedule: May 31—Mer Rouge at Rayville, Bastrop at Columbia, Farmerville at Ruston, Monroe at Delhi. June 3—Rayville at West Monroe, Columbia at Mer Rouge, Ruston at Bastrop, Delhi at Farmerville.

Missed Grounder Cost Pirates' Mazeroski $25

PITTSBURGH, May 30 (AP)—Second baseman Billy Mazeroski of the Pittsburgh Pirates today was fined $25 by Manager Bobby Bragan for allowing a ground ball to go through for a base hit.

Bragan said he thought Mazeroski should have at least knocked down the ball hit by Gino Cimoli in the eighth inning of yesterday's game against the Brooklyn Dodgers.

The base hit by Cimoli into centerfield scored Junior Gilliam who led off the inning on a two-base error by first baseman Frank Thomas and gave the Dodgers a 1-0 victory.

Hogan's 67 Leads 1st Round In Palm Beach Round Robin

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW ROCHELLE, N.Y., May 30 (UP)—Ben Hogan, using a new baseball putting grip in warming up for a record fifth U.S. Open, fired a four-under par 34-33-67 today to take the first-round lead in the Palm Beach Round Robin with a score of plus 20 points.

Bantam Ben, two-time winner of this event in which a competitor earns a plus or minus rating by matching medal scores with other members of his foursome, snopped up Mike Fetchick, Ed Furgol and Gene Littler for the plus 20 which put him a fat 12 points ahead of Sam Snead and Australian Peter Thomson. They were tied for second at the plus eight.

Hogan was putting well with his new grip as he cracked par of 37-34-71 over the rolling, wind-swept course. This gave him five points from Fetchick's 37-35-72, seven points from Furgol's 40-34-74, and eight points from Littler's 37-38-75.

Snead, who has finished second in the Open four times and at 45 still hopes to win America's greatest golfing prize, wasn't far off Hogan's pace. He and Thomson both shot 68's, which gave them each eight points against a 70 for Billy Casper and a 74 by husky Mike Souchak.

Dow Finsterwald took fourth place with plus seven on a 36-33-69 against a 70 by Ken Venturi and 72's for Cary Middlecoff and Dick Mayer.

Venomous Ties Own Record In Taking Colonial

CAMDEN, N. J., May 30 (AP)—B. A. Dario's favored Venomous won the $28,300 Colonial Handicap Memorial Day feature at Garden State Park today in 1:10, equalling her own six furlong record for the meeting.

Mabel D. Lewis' Happy Princess who finished second in the all distaff feature, chased Venomous all the way but fell back in the stretch. Stolen Hour, owned by Phillip Connors, closed from seventh position at the head of the stretch to earn third money.

Venomous paid $3.80, $3.00, and $2.40; Happy Princess $6 and $3.80 and Stolen Hour $4.80.

EXERCISE BOY HURT

INGLEWOOD, Calif., May 30 (UP)—Eddie Sanchez, exercise boy for trainer Mish Tenney and the Red Ellsworth Stable, was flipped from a horse today and hospitalized in critical condition. Preliminary medical reports indicated Sanchez sustained four broken vertebrae, five broken ribs, a collapsed lung and possibly a fractured kidney and spleen.

Makes Record Bums, Bucs Split Run For First '500' Victory

By JERRY LISK
Indianapolis, May 30 (UP)—Sam Hanks, the lean "dean" of race drivers, finally won his first Indianapolis 500-mile auto race in 12 tries today, throttling his yellow car to a record-smashing triumph.

The 42-year-old Hanks, from Pacific Palisades, Calif., gunned his lightweight Belond special, which has its engine lying on its side, at a 135.601 mile per hour average over the 200 laps.

The 6-foot, 160-pound driver, who last year finished second to Pat Flaherty, cracked the 1954 record of 130.840 m.p.h. by the late Bill Vukovich.

Hanks finished about 20 seconds ahead of 28-year-old Jim Rathmann of Miami, who came clear up from the last row in 11-row starting lineup to challenge Hanks the entire second half of the thrilling race. Jimmy Bryan from Phoenix, Ariz., was third.

Fourth among the 17 surviving cars of the original field of 33 was the Novi special of 43-year-old Paul Russo, Nanoga Park, Calif., while fifth went to Andy Linden of Indianapolis.

Rathmann reported after the race his car's frame developed a crack midway in the grind and caused a "shimmy" on curves which cost him ground to the flying Hanks.

Hanks was overcome in the winner's circle, tears mingling with sweat as he accepted the victor's spoils. The greying Hanks said this was his last "500."

The ideal weather, the customary whopping crowd of more than 150,000 saw the yellow caution light flash on four times to signal mishaps on the track.

In all except one instance, the wrecked driver was able to walk away from his car. The one casualty was Mike Magill, 37, Haddonfield, N. J., who suffered back injuries when he hit a retaining wall and was struck from behind by Al Herman, 30, Allentown, Pa. Both were forced out of the race.

Hanks won't know how much he won until tomorrow night's victory dinner. He knows he won $21,150 for leading 141 laps at $150 a crack.

On top of that he'll get a bite out of a probable $300,000 purse that probably will bring car owner George Salih's earnings to about $100,000.

Slim Sabu, who made his Indianapolis debut in 1940, got the traditional "victory" kiss from actress Cyd Charisse.

The race was not televised but some 325 radio stations broadcast the running from coast to coast.

The race got off to a somewhat disappointing start when two cars bumped in the parade lap before the roaring getaway and failed to start.

But after some early maneuvering for position among the pole position driver, Pat O'Connor; Troy Ruttman of Lynwood, Calif.; the 1952 champion, and Russo, who alternated in the lead for the first 35 laps, Hanks took charge.

The first 10 finishers all broke Vukovich's three-year-old track record. The 10th man, Johnny Thomson, Boyertown, Pa., had an average of 131.339 m.p.h.

Coast Won't Fight Majors If Pay Right

SAN FRANCISCO, May 30 (UP)—The Pacific Coast League will not fight any protected major league baseball move to California by the New York Giants and the Brooklyn Dodgers but expects a "just compensation," its president, Leslie O'Connor, said tonight.

He declined to suggest a compensating figure. O'Connor labeled the action "brutal," blamir "politicians" in the proposal. New York and Brooklyn are the National League. The P.C.L. he said, "expects any major league involved to respect and fulfill its obligations to just compensation."

Fourth among the 17 surviving cars of the original field of 33 was the Novi special of 43-year-old Paul Russo, Nanoga Park, Calif., while fifth went to Andy Linden of Indianapolis.

Yank Defeats Scot

FORMBY, England, May 30 (UP)—Leslie McClure, a gallant Scot with nine stitches in his split ear, fought in vain to stave off defeat today but yielded to Harold Ridgeley, the last American left in the British Amateur Golf championship by a whopping 7 and 5 margin.

Ridgeley, of the U. S. Air Force, a toughened master sergeant, softened every consideration in winning their quarter-final match. But he didn't let up in his shooting and stayed out in front all day long.

McClure, his right ear bandaged, played purely on nerve today after er walking into a driver swung by Dale Morey of Indianapolis during their fifth round match yesterday. Ridgeley, whose home town is Haverford, Pa., thus became the first American to reach the semifinals of the British Amateur since Joe Conrad two years ago.

The other semifinalists are Arthur Walker, a wealthy real estate man from Johannesburg, South Africa; Reid Jack, a former commando officer from Glasgow, and Alan Bussell, a 20-year-old Glasgow youngster. Walker, 26, meets Ridgeley, 43, in a 36-hole semifinal starting at 3:30 a.m. (CST) tomorrow. Jack and Bussell play a half hour earlier.

Bruins Earn Even Split With Braves

MILWAUKEE, May 30 (UP)—Walt Moryn's two-run single gave the Chicago Cubs enough runs to beat the Milwaukee Braves, 4-2, in the second game of a double-header today. The Braves won the opener, 5-2, on the pitching of Ray Crone and two home runs.

Moryn's pinch-hit single in the fifth with the bases loaded put the Cubs in front, 4-1. Pitcher Truk Low, the fourth Cubs pitcher, struck out Felix Mantilla with the bases loaded in the ninth to preserve the victory for young Don Elston, who shut out the Braves after relieving starter Tom Poholsky in the fifth.

Flam, Knode Gain Finals In Net Meet

ROME, Italy, May 30 (UP)—A 15-round title bout between European wterweight champion Emilio Marconi of Italy and challenger Peter Waterman of England ended in a draw tonight, enabling the Italian to retain his crown.

PARIS, May 30 (UP)—Stocky Herb Flam of Beverly Hills, Calif., and slim, bespectacled Mrs. Dorothy Head Knode of Forest Hills, N. Y., won stiff matches today to gain the men's and women's singles finals of the French international tennis championships.

Flam came from behind to score a five-set upset over Merwyn Rose of Australia, 4-6, 6-4, 4-6, 6-2, 7-5. Herb was down two sets to one at the intermission, but he came back brilliantly and made seemingly impossible recoveries.

Mrs. Knode was extended in every game to defeat Miss Ann Haydon of Britain, 6-4, 10-8. The American will meet top-seeded Miss Shirley Bloomer of Britain in the final Sunday. Mrs. Knode is seeded second. Miss Bloomer today beat Vera Puzajova of Czechoslovakia, 6-4, 2-6, 6-3.

In Saturday's final, Flam will meet Sven Davidson of Sweden, who today outlasted Ashley Cooper of Australia, 6-4, 2-6, 2-6, 6-2, 6-3.

KUZN strengthened its command of the Dixie Baseball League in West Monroe by defeating the Civitans, 4-3, as Cline Averett and Gary Fields shared two - hit pitching for the winners. Fred Newton caught for KUZN. The losing battery was Harold Hubbard and J. McBroom.

Reds Take Nightcap 7-3 On Bell's Homer; Cards Win 1st

ST. LOUIS, May 30 (UP)—Gus Bell's three-run, inside the park home run brought the Cincinnati Redlegs from behind to win the second game 7-3 today after Willard Schmidt had tamed the National League leaders on four hits for a 7-2 St. Louis Cardinal victory in the opener.

Cards centerfielder Ken Boyer tried to make a diving catch of Bell's sharp liner in the seventh inning of the Memorial Day nightcap. He missed and the ball rolled to the wall while Bell raced home behind pinch-hitter Pete Whisenant and Johnny Temple.

George Crowe, Frank Robinson and Ed Bailey also homered for the muscular Redlegs in the second game.

The Redleg bats were quiet against Schmidt in the first game and he was touched for runs only on Bob Thurman's homer and some weird Cardinal throwing antics in the fourth inning. It was Schmidt's fourth victory against one loss and his first complete game.

Don Blasingame and Alvin Dark each slammed triples and drove in three runs apiece for the Cards in the opener. Blasingame also had three singles for a perfect game at the plate.

Tigers Sweep Pair From A's, 6-5, 3-2

DETROIT, May 30 (UP)—Lou Sleater and Frank Bolling delivered key home runs today to lead the Detroit Tigers to a sweep over the Kansas City Athletics in their holiday doubleheader, 6-5 and 3-2. Sleater, a relief pitcher batting for the first time this season, lined his first major league homer leading off the bottom of the 10th to decide the opener and Bolling blasted a pair of homers in the second game.

Bolling's first homer of the night came in the sixth inning and broke up a scoreless pitching duel between Detroit's Paul Foytack and Arnold Portocarrero of the Athletics.

Portersville Wins By Head

NEW YORK, May 30 (UP)—Portersville, owned by the Clearwater stables of Mobile, Ala., just made it in the final strides today to beat Dedicate by a head in the $58,900 Carter Handicap at Belmont Park. The heavily favored Boston Dodge finished last in a field of eleven.

Ted Atkinson, who has somewhat of a monopoly on the Carter, — the nation's richest sprint race — rode the bay 5-year-old son of Count Fleet. It was the first stakes victory for Portersville, named for an Alabama town and owned by Ed Roberts and F. L. (Red) Leatherbury and the fourth Carter for Atkinson.

Mrs. Jan Burke's Dedicate, who in his last start March 30 won the $100,000 Campbell Memorial at Bowie, Md., took the lead in the 7-furlong dash near the head of the stretch with about a quarter of a mile to travel. Bill Boland had Dedicate about a half length in front as they straightened for home, with Portersville next, followed by Chester Calthness' Nance's Lad and Mrs. Julie Miron's Jutland. As they rushed under the wire, Portersville took care of Dedicate who in turn saved second place by a neck over Jutland, ridden by Eddie Arcaro. Mrs. Ethel D. Jacobs' Paper Tiger was fourth, another three lengths away.

Portersville's time was 1:23 flat, just one second off the track record, set in 1906 by Roseben.

Portersville carried only 111 pounds to 126 by Dedicate but was overlooked by New York's biggest race crowd of the year, 50,455. The winner paid $23.80, $10.60 and $6.10. Dedicate returned $7.20 and $4.90, and Jutland, packing 112 pounds, $4.50.

Yanks Asking High Rent For Stadium

NEW YORK, May 30 (UP)—If and when the Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Giants move to California, the New York Yankees will demand a rental of approximately $600,000 a year for the use of Yankee Stadium by the Cincinnati Redlegs or any other National League club.

President Dan Topping of the Yankees has said "we would not be averse" to sharing the stadium with another club — provided that the co-tenant met the Yankees' terms.

These would include a high rental fee and Yankee dictation of television and radio policy. "When the Redlegs come into Yankee stadium, they will have to sign a long-term lease," an informed baseball source told the United Press. "The Yankees have this thing all worked out and it will cost another club at least $600,000 to move in with them. In addition, the Yankees will insist on dictating television and radio policy."

These radio-TV and other plans already have been drawn up and approved, the United Press learned last Monday, in reporting more than 24 hours in advance that the Dodgers-Giants franchise shifts would be proposed at Tuesday's meeting of National League club owners in Chicago.

The Yankees no longer own the stadium. Topping and his associates sold the park more than two years ago to the Knights of Columbus. However, they still are in a position to dictate terms under which they would share the stadium with another team.

As one baseball official put it, "Those terms will make the Red-

UNUSUAL DEER AND FOX HOUND

Giveaway Pup Best To Ever Grace Perkin's Kennel In Catahoula

By BEAGLE BAILEY
(Guest Correspondent)

JONESVILLE (Special) — The farm and home of Sol Perkins can be observed about three miles out of Jonesville on the Harrison-burg highway. There is nothing unusual to be noticed about the farm or old Sol himself. Yet, any man in Catahoula Parish, who runs fox or deer with dogs, when passing Sol's place, will automatically turn his head and look lingeringly with a sort of admiration in his eyes. Or his eyes will slowly sweep the area around Sol's house.

He will not be looking for Sol or any of his family, but something else. One of the most graceful and dignified little old gray-haired trig ladies you ever saw. The term gray-haired is used because one of the first things you notice about her is the contrast between the gray of her nose and forehead and the black of her neck and back.

This is Jackie, the pride and joy of old Sol and the cause for many a good fox hound coming out of a chase long before it is time learning the art of trailing rabbits back of Sol's field, always keeping her nose close to the ground, seldom letting her quarry give her the dodge and get away with it. The training she got at that young age is partly responsible for her greatness of today. The things she has been known to do to a dodging fox would fill a large book.

Sticking on the trail of a fox so close that it is almost impossible for him to get away with a sharp cutback and, at the same time, always managing to be running front is hard for any young dog. Yet, Jackie does this very thing at the tender age of 13 years. But again we are getting ahead of our story. Let's drop back a few years to a few incidents in the life of this fabulous dog.

At the age of six months, Jackie was a good-sized pup for her age. Black on her back, with tan legs and head, a person might mistake her for a black-and-tan, should they overlook the small white tips of the trig. A small white spot on her chest, four white feet and a few white hairs at the tip of her tail, are the tipoff.

Sol decided to take this six-month old pup on a chase one night to see if she would run a fox. The fox was jumped by an old "start" dog without much trouble, when the dog cage was opened and out poured some good fox hounds, some rabbit runners, a few pot lickers and Jackie the Doll. This was that big thrilling moment in a fox hunter's life, the whole pack turned loose on a hot trail. This is the moment that an old man is young again.

It gave Sol much joy to hear his man who said he would glad-can be heard mingled with the hue and cry of the hounds; at times so close in pursuit of the dogs it is hard to tell who has the fox, Sol or Jackie.

If a man and a dog were ever ripe for a book to be written about them, Sol is the man and Jackie the dog.

If there is a place in the hereafter where a man can go and take his favorite hunting dog, and if you can make it there, you will surely be awakened many a night to the music of Jackie's beautiful chop and the wild yells of old Sol.

It's not too hard to imagine St. Peter pausing in his task of ushering souls into heaven to cock his head slightly into the mist, listening momentarily to the hot race, then turning slowly back to his task with a smile of satisfaction on his face mumble half aloud, "I wonder if Jackie is having to show Sol the way, now."

There's a pair of Jackie's puppies in Sol's kennel that should be mentioned in this story, the "Eisenhowers," "Ike" and "Mamie," named for the president and the first lady of the land. Here, we must say that if the Eisenhowers in the White House could give the people they serve as much satisfaction as the "Eisenhowers" in Sol's kennel, the people in the United States would be very happy indeed.

As the years went by, Jackie seemed to improve with age and her devotion to her master grew even stronger until a bond now exists between the two that only a few people can understand: Jackie, a little unregistered gray-nosed Trig lady, certainly queen of the fox hounds in this country, now 13 and still going strong, Sol nearing 70 and ready to go fox hunting two or three nights a week and stay up 'til sun-up. Sol has done this for the past 50 years and, as always, his yell

Wetzel May Have Won Long Stay In Fight

JACKSON, Miss., May 30 (AP) — William Wetzel may have won a reprieve of several months in his fight to avoid death in the state's gas chamber for murder.

The 35-year-old Seneca Falls, N. Y., man yesterday lost his appeal to the U. S. Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans.

But Mississippi Atty. Gen. Joe Patterson said today he doubted whether the State Supreme Court could reschedule the execution before the court begins its three-month vacation.

Besides, Patterson said, "Wetzel's lawyers probably will appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court."

Wetzel was sentenced to die for the knife slaying of Edgar (Sonny) McGraw, a fellow inmate of state penitentiary, in 1953. The killing was described as retaliation for McGraw's turning state's evidence.

Wetzel appealed his death sentence on grounds he was sentenced to die when the state used an electric chair. Before the execution could be carried out, the state changed its means of execution to gas.

Wetzel also appealed on grounds testimony in his trial was per-

Fire Hazard Search Slated At Baton Rouge

BATON ROUGE, May 30 (AP) — Baton Rouge Monday opens a five-month inspection program, searching house-to-house for fire hazards as part of a statewide drive.

Fire Chief Robert A. Bogan said the inspections, strictly voluntary, developed out of the governor's fire prevention conference here last October.

It is part of a statewide inspection program during June, jointly sponsored by the governor, Louisiana State Firemen's Assn., the state fire marshal and the State Fire Fighters' Assn.

THE OPPOSITION

NEW MILFORD, Conn. — (UP) — President William M. Goss of the Scovill Manufacturing Co. made an unnerving discovery when he picked up a brass trowel to apply cement to the cornerstone of his firm's new tube mill. "I see we are using tools made by the opposition firm," he commented.

Menu Clues For Picnickers

Just mention a picnic and thoughts turn to hamburgers, frankfurters, rolls or buns, potato chips, pickles, baked beans and many other foods that are wonderful indoor-outdoor cookery fare. Deciding the date and time and place may be easy, but planning a menu often requires a bit of ingenuity. At a picnic any food goes—but unusual twists to old favorites can add to a picnic's success.

Menus for the Chasing
Hamburgers, buns, barbecued potato chips, corn-on-the-cob or squash corn (cooked, frozen or canned whole kernel corn seasoned with chopped pimiento and green pepper), cole slaw, fresh fruit, cupcakes and coffee.
Hamburgers, buns, kidney bean salad, relishes (celery, carrot sticks, olives, radishes), chocolate brownies, iced tea or lemonade.
Frankfurters, rolls, baked beans, corn sticks, sliced tomatoes, cucumber and onions, cookies, iced tea.

Frankfurters, rolls, potato chips, mixed green salad, cocoa, nut cake, coffee.
Hamburgers to Your Liking
Hamburger fans are usually content with hamburgers, buns, onions, mustard and catchup. But three unusually easy-to-prepare, easy-to-eat versions of this combination are Hidden Treasure Hamburgers, Onion Burgers and Cheese Center Hamburgers.

To make 6 Hidden Treasure Hamburgers, you'll need 1½ pounds ground beef, 1½ teaspoons salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 6 thin slices of medium-sized onions and 6 teaspoons pickle relish. Combine ground beef, salt and pepper and shape into 12 thin patties. Place 1 slice of onion and 1 teaspoon pickle relish on each of six patties. Cover each with another patty and press edge together to seal. Grill slowly on both sides until browned.

For 6 Onion Burgers: Brown 1½ cups chopped onion in 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, add 2 teaspoons prepared horseradish, 2 teaspoons prepared mustard and ½ teaspoon salt. Combine 1½ pounds ground beef, 1 teaspoon salt and ¼ teaspoon pepper. Shape seasoned ground beef into 12 thin patties, spread onion mixture over 6, top each with another patty and press edges together. Grill slowly on both sides until browned.

Cheese Center Hamburgers are prepared with the same ground beef mixture and shaped into 12 patties as Hidden Treasure Hamburgers and Onion Burgers. Then a tablespoon of grated cheddar cheese and 1 teaspoon prepared mustard is placed on each of six patties. Another patty is placed on top and edges are pressed together and grilled slowly on both sides until browned.

Frankfurters with a Flair
It is difficult to compete with the tantalizing flavor of frankfurters and pickle relish or frankfurters and catchup or mustard on a bun, but the homemaker looking for new ways to serve this meat favorite will no doubt delight in serving Sweet Sour Frankfurters or Hawaiian Frankfurter Kabobs.

The Sweet Sour Frankfurters are prepared as follows, allowing 1 pound frankfurters for 4 servings: Dissolve 1 bouillon cube in ½ cup boiling water. Mix 5 teaspoons cornstarch and ½ cup cold water. Combine bouillon and cornstarch mixture, add 2 tablespoons chopped pimiento, 1 tablespoon chopped dill pickle, ½ cup vinegar, 1 tablespoon brown sugar and ¼ teaspoon salt. Cook, stirring constantly until thickened. Serve the sauce on grilled frankfurters.

To prepare Hawaiian Frankfurter Kabobs, allow 1 pound frankfurters, 1 can (13½ ounces pineapple chunks and 8 slices bacon) for 4 servings. Cut frankfurters into thirds. Drain pineapple. Thread meat, pineapple and bacon on 8 skewers, weaving bacon in between. Allow 4 frankfurter pieces, 3 pineapple chunks and 1 slice bacon for each. Grill Kabobs until bacon is lightly browned. To serve, slide meat and pineapple off skewer onto frankfurter rolls.

Laurel Police Chief Expires

JACKSON, Miss., May 30 (AP)—Laurel Police Chief C. Wayne Valentine, 55, died today in University Hospital here after a month's illness. He had been in critical condition since Friday and was brought to the hospital Monday, suffering from pneumonia with complications.

Chief for 12 years, Valentine had been on the Laurel force for 35 years.

Survivors include a son, Wayne Valentine Jr., a state highway patrolman who until recently was stationed at the governor's mansion in Jackson. The patrolman is now at Richton.

Other survivors include his wife and a daughter, Mrs. Victor Rathner of Fulton, Miss. Services will be at 3 p.m. tomorrow from West Laurel Baptist Church.

Let Your Guest Make Their Meat And Vegetable Kebabs

Most Americans will agree that the most "fun meal" in summer is one cooked over an outdoor grill. The wonderful aroma of the cooking food, keen outdoor appetites, and the informality of the setting make outside eating appealing.

Casual entertaining is easily planned around an outdoor meal. Some of the menu can be readied in advance — salads, beverages, and desserts — and the rest of it cooked over the grill.

A most successful party is one at which the guests cook their own meats. Serve an assortment of meats and vegetables for kebabs and let each person select his favorite combination for grilling. Here is a menu for such a party:

Make Your Own Kebabs
(Beef and lamb cubes, sausage links, meat balls)
(Mushrooms, onions, green peppers)

Buttered frankfurter buns.
Relish plate.
Chocolate cake.
Bananas.
Iced tea.
Milk.

Many cuts of beef, lamb and smoked pork lend themselves to skewer cookery. Any cut which can be broiled in the kitchen range can be grilled outside.

For this menu, arrange the meat and vegetables buffet - style for easy selection at the grill. Cut beef sirloin steak and lamb stew meat into 2-inch cubes and place them in bowls along with a platter of ground beef balls and the skilletful of sausages. Add a bowl of sliced onions, some mushroom caps and squares of green pepper to skewer with the meat.

Prepare the meatballs in advance and store them in the refrigerator until cooking time. (They hold their shape better when well - chilled.) Here is the recipe:

Grilled Meat Balls
1½ pounds ground beef.
2 tablespoons finely minced onion.
1½ teaspoons salt.
½ teaspoon pepper.
½ teaspoon chili powder.

Combine all ingredients and shape into 12 balls, about 2 inches in diameter. Refrigerate at least one hour before cooking.

To prepare sausage links for kebab cookery, place them in a skillet with a few tablespoons water, cover pan and simmer 5 minutes. Drain off water and arrange meat on skewers for final broiling.

How To Cook Kebabs
Alternate any or all of these meats with mushroom caps, onion slices, and green pepper pieces on a long handled skewer. Brush each with melted butter or margarine or a barbecue sauce and cook over glowing coals until the meat is well - browned outside and tender and juicy within. Turn the skewers frequently so the meat is evenly browned on all sides.

It is difficult to give exact cooking times for outdoor grilled meats. The distance of the meat from the source of heat, the amount of heat, and even the weather conditions (wind, moisture in the air) affect broiling times.

To serve kebabs, push the meat and vegetables from the skewer with a fork. Eat with a fork or serve sandwich - style in frankfurter buns.

White Fish In Beet Sauce Variation Of Italian Dish

This is a variation of an Italian main dish. The Italians have a knack for making delicious dishes of unusual food combinations. That's why Italian cooking makes such interesting and delicious eating. This recipe using fish, beets and olives is a good example of an unusual combination of foods. Once you try it, it will be a favorite at your house. Red beets, green olives and white fish make a beautiful platter.

After chopped onions cook tender, green olives, tomato juice and seasonings are stirred in. Thinly sliced cooked beets come next. Then pieces of white fish are arranged over the top. This cooks slowly until the fish flakes easily. The delicious sauce, beets and fish are attractively arranged over hot, fluffy rice. There's plenty of sauce in this quickly cooked, economical main dish.

Champagne Punch Fit For A Bride

The most important refreshment for a bridal reception is the punch — and the punch that makes the biggest hit is usually champagne - based.

Domestic champagnes do very nicely — there's no need to spend a lot of money on the imported wines. Small sandwiches and the bridal cake are all that's needed if the punch is a knock-out.

Here is a recipe for champagne fruit punch that guests might like:

Two sprigs mint.
Seven cloves.
One cup sugar.
One cup water.
One-half cup lemon juice.
One can frozen pineapple chunks.

Six orange slices.
One quart box strawberries.
Two quarts champagne.
One cup liqueur.

Separate mint leaves from stems and crush with cloves and sugar. Add lemon juice and water and stir until sugar is dissolved. Stem strawberries and cover with liqueur. Add other fruit. Mix all together and pour over block of ice in chilled punch bowl. Just before serving add chilled champagne.

Jet Refuels At 40,000-Ft. Level

WICHITA, Kan., May 30 (AP) — An Air Force pilot today reported flying a McDonnell F101 Voodoo interceptor here from Edwards Air Force Base, Calif., Wednesday, faster than sound much of the way.

Maj. Austin (Gus) Julian, 34, of Roan Mountain, Tenn., project officer for the F101 at Edwards, said he flew the 1,050 miles to McDonnell Air Force Base near here in an hour and 25 minutes for a speed average of more than 750 miles an hour.

Julian said he refueled from a Boeing KC135 jet tanker 40,000 feet above the Santa Fe, N. M., area. The jet tankers only recently became available to the Air Force, and this was believed to have been the first speed dash to have been refueled at that high altitude.

ORANGE HONEY BUTTER
Some Sunday soon when you're having pancakes, waffles, or French toast for a Sunday Brunch, make this Orange Honey Butter to serve with them — it's something they'll rave about. Just blend together ½ cup butter, 1½ teaspoons finely grated orange rind, 2 tablespoons grated orange juice and ½ cup honey. Cook for a few minutes over moderate heat.

White Fish in Beet Sauce
Ingredients:
1 tablespoon cooking fat.
1 cup coarsely chopped onion.
1 cup uncooked white rice.
1 teaspoon salt.
2 cups water.
½ teaspoon celery seed.
¼ teaspoon black pepper.
1 teaspoon salt.
1 cup tomato juice.
2 tablespoons finely chopped green olives (not stuffed).
1 cup thinly sliced cooked beets.
1 lb. fresh or frozen, thawed white fish fillets.
Method: Melt the cooking fat in a large skillet. Add the onions. Cook slowly until the onions are tender and begin to turn yellow. While the onions cook, put the rice, 1 teaspoon salt and water in

Ham, Turkey Holiday Specials This Week--End

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ham and turkey, traditional holiday fare, are featured by many supermarkets and neighborhood grocery stores this week.

Some chains have been advertising the specials all week, since Memorial Day this year falls on Thursday, the normal big day for weekend food advertising. Supermarket meat men figure ham and turkey are favored by housewives because they can be used for the big "company" or family meal on the holiday and then are available for sandwiches later.

Ham prices have been off the

Two U.S. Judges Defend Press Ban

NEW ORLEANS, May 30 (AP) — Two federal judges today defended the practice of barring photographers from federal court proceedings, while a press representative took the side of the camera men.

The discussions came at the opening session of the two-day Judicial Conference of the Fifth Circuit which has attracted jurists from the U. S. Supreme Court level to district judges.

The first session, conducted by Alabama judges and lawyers, was concerned with freedom of the press as related to federal court procedure.

U. S. District Judge Frank Johnson, Jr., of Birmingham, said once the court lifts the ban on press photographers in the courtroom there is no practical way of controlling their activities.

"They are unlearned in the law and in all probability would take pictures only of the spectacular phases and not give a fair presentation to the public," Johnson said.

"As a practical matter, it is almost impossible to keep TV programs and newspapers from jurors, and as a result jurors are unduly impressed with the spectacular, which is not always the important aspect of a trial."

Judge Seymour Lynn, Birmingham, senior federal judge in Alabama and director of the conference, said the activity of photographers in trial courts "is bound to interrupt the orderly flow of court proceedings."

"This tends," he said, "to create an atmosphere of the spectacular which should be avoided."

Taking the opposite view, Governor C. Hall, editor-in-chief of the Montgomery, Ala., Advertiser, asked the judges and lawyers participating in the discussions, if there could be any such thing as a vacuum-packed trial.

"Can there be a trial sealed against public knowledge and gossip?" he asked. "Can you contrive a trial process in a bottle so sterile that it is pure of prejudice?"

"Even amid the austere immediate restraints of the courtroom," Hall added, "the contending lawyers make prejudicial innuendoes to the jury and ask so many plainly inadmissible things that the judge has to cleanse the jury's mind with a charge of what they must remember and what they must forget."

Associate Justice Hugo Black of the U. S. Supreme Court, attended the conference.

Chicken Salad

Outdoorism Tips

A slim figure is always the envy if not the goal, of every woman in the summer... especially now when sheath dresses and trim bathing suits set the style... shades of the 1920's.

Sometimes it's difficult though, on a hot summer day, to plan a lunch or dinner keeping the calories within reason and all the family happy. When dad comes home from work looking completely wilted, he doesn't long for a green salad with little else to give him the pick-up he needs. The children are the same too... they burn up that ever-existing energy in tennis, bicycling and other sports and need a substantial amount of "refueling" for the next several hours.

What then is the answer for the weight watcher? It's simple. Plan the menu around chicken vegetable salad. This hearty gelatin mold will satisfy the active ones... and at approximately 140 calories per serving the dieter can enjoy it too... without feeling cheated.

A cooked vegetable... such as garden-fresh string beans, peanut butter and jelly sandwiches and milk for the youngsters, and either fruit or individual frozen fruit pies... baked and served a la mode will make everyone happy.

Keeping in mind the trim figure, the dieter can use a low-calorie dressing on her salad and serve it on plenty of crisp greens. An average serving of green beans... skim milk or iced tea and fresh fruit for dessert is a very pleasant way to begin work on "summer slimness."

The recipe for this hot weather treat is:

Chicken Vegetable Salad
1 envelope unflavored gelatin.
1 cup cold water
1 cup (10½ ounces) condensed cream of celery soup
1 can (5 ounces) boned chicken, diced
½ cup chopped celery
¼ cup chopped dill pickle
¼ cup thinly sliced red radishes.
2 teaspoons grated onion.
Dash black pepper.
Soften gelatin in ½ cup cold water; place container over boiling water and heat, stirring occasionally, until gelatin is dissolved. Blend in soup and remaining ½ cup water; refrigerate until slightly thickened. Fold in remaining ingredients; pour into a 1-quart mold. Chill until firm. Unmold and serve on crisp salad greens. Serves 4 generously.

Britain, Egypt Break Off Talks On Trade Issue

ROME, May 30 (UP)—Britain and Egypt broke off their first major trade talks since Suez without results today, but promised to resume the discussions "at a later date."

A brief 50-word communique said the discussions had "been carried as far as practicable," and added the two delegations now were reporting back to their respective governments.

The communique contained no hint that any firm agreements had been reached, and informed sources confirmed that this was the case.

Observers here felt, however, that the talks may have opened the way to some future agreements. They pointed out that the four meetings between the two delegations were carried on in a friendly, businesslike atmosphere, and the decision to continue them indicated a desire on both sides to find some common ground.

SAUCE-Y CINNAMON RELISH

2 cups canned apple sauce.
½ cup diced celery.
½ cup seedless raisins.
½ cup red cinnamon candies
½ cup prepared horse-radish.

Combine apple sauce, celery, raisins, candies and horse-radish; chill in refrigerator several hours. Stir until candies are completely dissolved and mixed through apple sauce. Yields 6-8 servings.

Cheese provides the body with protein of the same quality found in the best cuts of meat, with calcium needed for teeth and bones, and with ribo-flavin of the vitamin B family. If the cheese is made of whole milk, it contains quantities of vitamin A too.

Kitchen Wonder Boy Can Bake Cake In One Lesson

Remember the famous advertisement of the '20s, "They laughed when he sat down at the piano but their eyes popped when he began to play?" Our boy was the hit of the evening and he had learned it all in 10 easy lessons from a mail-order course.

You, too, can be a wonder boy, and it takes only one easy lesson if you follow our method. But you'll put on your performance in the kitchen.

If any one of you hankers after an unconditional guarantee, here's our claim: we can teach you to bake a made-from-scratch cake, complete with ripe red strawberries and ice cream, even if you've never boiled water, made toast, heated a can or soup. And you don't have to fill out a coupon, clip a box top, add the last line to a limerick or send a dime to pay for the cost of handling. All that's necessary is to follow these directions. Moreover, you can whip up the cake for this "spectacular" in five minutes flat.

Top Secret

First, hide this recipe from the little woman. She probably won't believe you can scramble a few ingredients together and produce a bona fide cake. Have confidence in us and all will be okay. Next time you're coerced into lending a hand with the food shopping, find some flour that has baking powder and salt mixed into it. In the North, this will come in a package and be labeled "self-rising cake flour." In the South, it will probably come in a bag and be called "self-rising flour."

Miracle Cake

1. Grease the bottom of a cake pan that's 8 inches square and 1½ inches deep. Line the bottom of the pan with waxed paper and lightly rub the paper with butter or margarine. Turn on the oven to moderate (350 degrees).
2. Spoon some of the self-rising flour (lightly now, no packing down) into a 1-cup measure and level off the top; dump into a medium-sized mixing bowl. Measure 1 cup of sugar the same way, dump it over the flour and stir together.

3. Break a couple of eggs into a 1-cup measure and fill the cup to the very top with heavy cream. Throw the eggs-and-cream mixture over the flour-and-sugar mixture. Add a teaspoon of pure vanilla extract. Beat vigorously until there are absolutely no lumps, occasionally scraping sides and bottom of bowl with a rubber scraper. Use a hand rotary beater or that electric mixer your wife persuaded you to buy.
4. Turn into the pan you got ready. Clean the bowl with the rubber scraper. Might as well squeeze out the last drop of batter, you paid for it. Smooth the top of your cake so it will be level.
5. Put the pan on the rack nearest the middle of the pre-heated oven and set the kitchen timer so it will ring in 35 minutes. When that time is up, insert a toothpick in the center of the cake. If no crumbs adhere to the pick, and the cake has pretty well shrunk from the sides of the pan, it is done and you don't have to bake it any longer.

6. Potholder in hand, remove cake from oven. Free sides of cake from sides of pan by running a small knife between the two. Turn pan over on a wire rack and cake will fall out. Take off paper pronto. Now hold another rack over bottom of cake and turn topside up.

Crowning Glory

Even though you throw your cake together in front of a party of guys and dolls, hulling and sugaring strawberries for it won't impress anyone. So do this before your freeloader arrives. Then when your audience is drooling, build up plates of cake, strawberries and scoops of vanilla ice cream. By the time every crumb has been eaten, you'll be a sensation.

And don't forget that chopped parsley or pimiento added to melted butter is wonderful for broiled fish fillets.

Diploma Party Idea

There are few thrills in life equal to the one when you receive your first diploma. For the teen-age set, this usually calls for a celebration. Sometimes it is a party for a few, but often it means entertaining the whole senior class.

Refreshments "should be delicious and yet simple to prepare. A diploma roll and a glass of fruit punch is gay and appropriate for this party. Here's a novel dessert with a new crunchy topping. Each diploma is really a miniature jelly roll iced with a butter cream frosting or whipped cream and generously covered with honey-flavored rice cereal. For the final decorative touch, a ribbon-like bow is made with icing tinted to match the class colors.

Diploma Rolls

- 1-1 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour.
- 1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder.
- 1/2 teaspoon salt.
- 8 eggs.
- 1 1/2 cups sugar.
- 2 teaspoons vanilla.
- 2 cups tart jelly.

Start oven 400 degrees F. Sift flour; measure. Sift again with baking powder and salt. Beat eggs lightly until as thick as whipped cream consistency. Gradually add sugar, a tablespoon at a time, beating well after each addition. Stir in vanilla. Sift flour mixture, small amount at a time, over beaten eggs and stir in gently. Line two 15"x10" jelly roll pans with waxed paper. Spread batter evenly in pans. Bake for 12 to 15 minutes.

Meanwhile, sprinkle the surface of two towels with confectioners' sugar. Turn out baked jelly rolls onto prepared towels. Remove paper and trim crisp edges from cakes. With a sharp knife, cut each cake into three strips, lengthwise. Then cut again crosswise into two strips. Roll up and cool on rack, seam side down. When cool, unroll and spread with jelly.

Icing

- 1/2 cup butter or margarine.
- 1/4 teaspoon salt.
- 1-3 cup milk.
- 1 teaspoon vanilla.
- 2 cups honey-flavored rice cereal.

Mix the butter, salt, and sugar together until light and fluffy. Beat in the milk and vanilla, continuing to beat until mixture is smooth with a spreading consistency. Reserve 1/4 cup frosting for decorative ribbons. Frost individual diplomas with rest of frosting and sprinkle generously with honey-flavored rice cereal. Place reserved icing in pastry tube and decorate the diplomas. Makes 12 diplomas.

TUNA ROLLS

- 1 can (6 1/2 or 7 oz.) tuna, drained and flaked.
- 1-3 cup sour cream.
- 1/4 cup chopped celery.
- 1 tablespoon grated onion.
- 1/4 teaspoon horseradish.
- 2 teaspoons prepared mustard.

Combine all ingredients except rolls and butter; mix well. Split rolls partially and spread with butter. Fill with tuna mixture. Makes 4 servings.

Brunch Suggestion

Serving brunch, a fancy breakfast served late in the morning is becoming very popular in America.

You will want to know suitable foods to serve, for the brunch is an easy and hospitable way to entertain friends after church on Sunday. Or it's a delightful way to start a holiday with your family. This menu, excellent for brunch, is equally good for lunch, so you can practice at school.

Here's a good recipe to experiment with herbs. Instead of the oregano or sage, try thyme, rosemary, or savory. The rice picks up the delicate herb flavor and makes simple food de luxe.

Creamed Beef With Herb Rice

- 1 1/2 cup finely chopped onion.
- 2 tablespoons butter.
- 1-1 1/2 cups (5-oz. package) pre-cooked rice.
- 1 1/2 cups water.
- 1/2 teaspoon salt.
- 1/2 teaspoon oregano or sage.
- 1-1 1/2 cups (5 ounces) shredded dried beef.
- 4 tablespoons butter.
- 1/4 cup flour.
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper.
- 2 cups milk.
- 2 hard-cooked eggs, quartered.

Step 1. Sauté onion in 2 tablespoons butter in saucepan over medium heat until onion is golden brown and tender, stirring occasionally.

Step 2. Add pre-cooked rice, water, salt, and oregano. Mix just until all rice is moistened. Bring quickly to a boil over high heat. Cover and remove from heat. Let stand 13 minutes.

Step 3. Sauté dried beef in 4 tablespoons until lightly browned. Add flour and pepper; blend well. Add milk gradually, stirring constantly. Cook and stir over medium heat until thickened. Then continue cooking 5 minutes; stir occasionally.

Step 4. Add eggs and heat thoroughly. Arrange on platter. Garnish with apple wedges and parsley. This makes 4 servings.

If dried beef seems too salty, rinse in hot water before using.

SAUCE FOR FISH

- 1/2 cup fresh lemon juice.
 - 1/2 teaspoon salt.
 - 1/4 cup salad oil.
 - 1/2 teaspoon black pepper.
 - 2 tablespoons grated onion.
 - 1 teaspoon dry mustard.
 - 2 tablespoons brown sugar.
- Mix ingredients well, stirring until sugar is completely dissolved. Place 1 lb. of fish fillets or fish steaks in shallow pan and pour sauce over. Heat broiler about 3 minutes; then, with pan about 2 inches from heat, broil fish on both sides until brown and tender, basting frequently with sauce. Serve immediately.

Savory Smoked Picnic Thrifty, Tasty Pork Buy

Similar in shape and flavor to a ham, and often confused with ham, a smoked picnic is a thrifty pork buy. Cut from the shoulder or foreleg, a picnic has the savory flavor typical of all smoked pork products.

Smoked picnics, available as cooked-before-eating and fully-cooked, are baked and glazed like hams. Place the meat on a rack in a shallow, open pan and insert a roast meat thermometer into the center of the meat, being careful the point does not touch bone or fat.

Follow the directions for roasting on the label. If there are no directions, roast the meat in a 325 degree F. oven, allowing 30 to 35 minutes per pound for a cook-before-eating picnic, or until the internal temperature on the roast meat thermometer reaches 170 degrees F. Roast a fully-cooked picnic to an internal temperature of 130 degrees F.

Up Appetites, Raise Money

FUND-RAISING—Main dish casseroles are featured in this fund-raising supper, ideal for clubs, churches or professional groups.

CHICKEN LIVERS SUPREME
Try adding sherry to your "special" chicken livers saute. About 1-3 cup sherry per pound of livers. Gourmet guest - pleaser!

SEASON VEGETABLES
Vegetables may be seasoned with a little finely minced onion and melted butter.

When cooking cheese, keep the heat low. Cheese needs just enough heat to melt and blend with other ingredients. High heat or cooking too long will make cheeses tough and stringy.

Do you belong to a club, church or professional group that wants to raise money for a pet project? Then rely on good food to get people together and help along your goal.

To find out how a group succeeds in giving a fund-raising supper, we attended a lecture - buffet session undertaken recently by Home Economics Women in Business members in New York City. We asked about planning and nabbed a large-quantity recipe in case you want to duplicate this supper in your own community.

Members and guests at the HEWBIB supper helped themselves first at a "soup bar" and to Brazil nut chips. Then they passed along a buffet table set with main - dish casseroles, relishes, rolls, fruit, cheese and crackers, fruit, cake and cookies. Coffee was served on request.

The main - dish casseroles were each made to yield either 20 or 48 portions and were prepared by members in the test kitchens in which they work. The recipe that follows may be easily duplicated using the facilities of a church, club or restaurant kitchen. If you do decide to use this recipe, we suggest you serve tomato juice instead of soup as your first course, because this main dish calls for condensed cream soup as one of its ingredients.

The casserole accompaniments - pickles, olives, cottage-cheese relish, celery, raw carrot strips and rolls - may be donated or bought. So may the fruit, cheese, cake and cookies that made up the dessert course. This menu, as you can see, calls for minimum food preparation. What you charge for your supper tickets will depend in part on what you have to buy and what you can get for free.

When you plan your supper, appoint a food committee to be responsible for organizing the menu and assigning the work in connection with its preparation. You will also need a serving committee who will set up the buffet table and replenish and oversee it and a clean-up committee.

The HEWBIB supper project was attended by 350 members and cleared enough money to award $500 in scholarships to five home economists for a graduate - study course at New York University. Undoubtedly the large attendance was not only due to the fact that the fund-raising goal was a worthy one, but also because a suitable program was arranged. At this particular supper, a panel discussion of food and fashion photography was held. The interests of your own group will naturally differ, but try to offer an alluring program that has both educational and entertainment value.

Green Noodle and Turkey Casserole

Ingredients: 10 cans (10½ ounces each) condensed cream of mushroom soup, 5 cups cans milk, 2 pounds sharp processed cheddar cheese (shredded), 1 can (4 ounces) pimiento (drained and chopped), 2 pounds green noodles (cooked), 3 quarts cubed or diced cooked turkey, 2 cups toasted slivered almonds.

Method: Mix together the soup, milk and cheese in a saucepan; cook over very low heat, stirring often, until cheese melts. Stir in pimiento. Pour a little of the sauce in the bottom of a large baking pan. Spread one - half of the cooked noodles in the pan. Cover with the turkey and about one - half of the sauce. Make a second layer in the same way. Sprinkle almonds evenly over top. Bake in moderate (375 degrees) oven for about 1 hour. Makes about 45 servings.

Note: A round pan, 18 inches in diameter and about 3 inches deep, was used in preparing this casserole.

Cooking Time Of Beans And Rice Now Shortened

Old - time cooks had to sort and wash the beans, sort and wash the rice - and the hours of cooking! Today, by using pre-cooked rice and canned beans, you can make this popular Louisiana dish in minutes.

This recipe has been especially adapted from the old - time "red 'n' white." Tomato juice has been added for extra flavor and food value. Note how the rice picks up the color and makes the dish more appetizing.

Instead of the turnip greens, you might want to serve mustard greens, collards, kale, dandelion greens, or spinach. Serve with lemon juice or vinegar and butter.

Keep a record in notebook or card file of regional foods you have eaten or prepared. Then when ideas for meal planning are running low, turn to your file of regional cookery ideas.

Red Beans and Rice
½ cup chopped onions.
2 tablespoons butter or other fat
1 1-3 cups (5-oz. package) pre-cooked rice.
1 teaspoon salt.
¼ teaspoon pepper.

Liquid from beans plus tomato juice to make 2 cups.
2 cups (No. 2 can) drained red kidney beans.

½ cup grated sharp cheese.
Step 1. Sauté onions in the butter in saucepan over medium heat until tender, but not brown; stir occasionally.

Step 2. Add pre-cooked rice, salt, pepper and liquid. Mix just to moisten all rice. Bring quickly to a boil over high heat. Then cover and remove from heat. Let stand 13 minutes.

Step 3. Add kidney beans to rice mixture. Place over medium heat until thoroughly heated, mixing with fork occasionally. Arrange in serving dish. Sprinkle the grated sharp cheese over the top. Garnish with few sprigs of parsley. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Weight-Watchers Custard
Ingredients: 1½ cups liquefied instant nonfat dry milk, ¼ cup firmly-packed dark brown sugar, ¼ teaspoon vanilla, 3 egg whites, ¼ cup flaked coconut.

Method: Stir liquefied instant nonfat dry milk, sugar and vanilla together until sugar is dissolved. Beat egg whites slightly; add to milk mixture and beat just enough to combine. Stir in coconut. Pour into four ½-cup size custard cups. Place cups in shallow metal baking pan. Pour very hot water into pan to depth of 1 inch. Bake in slow (325 degrees) oven until a knife inserted near center of custard comes out clean - about 50 minutes. Remove from water bath at once; place in pan of cold water to cool quickly. Chill. Calories per serving: 115. If coconut is omitted, each dessert will be 94 calories.

Crisp Cereal Cookies
Ingredients: 1 cup sifted flour, 1 teaspoon double-acting baking powder, ¾ teaspoon salt, 1 cup firmly-packed dark brown sugar, one-third cup dark corn syrup, ½ cup shortening, 1 egg, 1½ cups quick-cooking rolled oats, 1 individual box (1 ounce or about ¼ cup) ready-to-eat flaked wheat cereal.

Method: Sift together the flour, baking powder and salt. Heat brown sugar and corn syrup in a heavy saucepan over low heat until sugar is dissolved. Pour sugar mixture over shortening in mixing bowl, stirring until smooth; cool. Beat in egg. Add sifted dry ingredients, rolled oats and flaked wheat cereal; beat until thoroughly mixed. (Wheat flakes will break up in the process.) Chill until firm. Make small balls of the mixture - each about the size of a large marble - and place on greased cookie sheet several inches apart. (Dough will be somewhat sticky.) Press fairly thin with the flat bottom of a glass. Bake in moderate (375 degrees) oven until lightly browned - 8 to 10 minutes. Remove at once to cooling rack. If cookies harden too much to remove easily, place in oven again for a few seconds to soften. Store in tightly covered container when cool and crisp. Makes about 6 dozen.

Phyl's Corn Griddle Cakes
Ingredients: 1 package (10 ounces) quick-frozen whole-kernel corn, milk, 1 cup pancake mix, 1 egg, 1 tablespoon butter or margarine (melted).

Method: Cook corn according to package directions in very lightly salted water. Drain liquid from corn into measure; add enough milk to make 1 cup. Pour into mixing bowl; add pancake mix, egg and melted butter. Stir enough to moisten dry ingredients well; batter will be slightly lumpy. Stir in drained corn. Use about ¼ cup of the batter for each pancake and bake on hot lightly greased griddle or in electric skillet until golden brown; turn and brown on other side. Serve at once. Makes 10 to 12 griddlecakes.

Details Of 'Fantastic' Swiss Spy Plot Unfold

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH
BERN, Switzerland, May 30 (AP)—The details of a fantastic espionage centering in neutral Switzerland are gradually becoming known.

So far a French diplomat has been expelled, a Swiss attorney general has killed himself, and a federal police inspector has been arrested.

This is the story as it can be pieced together from well-informed sources:

Col. Marcel Mercier was one of the chiefs of French military intelligence in World War II. He came to Bern in June 1952 as commercial attaché, but took little interest in commerce.

He came here at a time when France was beginning to have serious trouble in North Africa, and when numerous North African nationalist leaders sought Swiss asylum.

A small hotel on Bern's outskirts became the exiles' favorite place of residence. Many frequently went to Egypt, Italy, Spain or the United Nations headquarters in New York—mostly with Egyptian or other Arab passports. Close contacts existed between the exiles and the Egyptian Embassy.

The federal police, a 22-member force responsible for Swiss internal political security and counter-intelligence under control of Atty. Gen. Rene Dubois, kept a close watch on the exiles. If conspiracies against the French were hatched on Swiss soil, Switzerland's neutrality would be violated. Dubois also considered that if clues in political assassinations led from North Africa to Switzerland, the Swiss were bound to follow through under international police cooperation.

The wire-tapping equipment of the federal police was put into action. Conversations from the exiles' headquarters were recorded. Many conversations were with the Egyptian Embassy and the system was extended to include other embassy conversations. The wire-tapping machines reaped a rich harvest of information.

Dubois assigned Max Ulrich to this work. He had the top-secret task of having the recordings transcribed and translated for Dubois. Dubois then separated the material into two lots: General information about the exiles, and information from Egyptian sources about plans in French North Africa.

Dubois—with approval of the Swiss government—delivered information in the first category to Mercier, with whom he was on close terms. In exchange, Mercier reportedly gave Dubois valuable information from French, German and American sources on underground Communist activities in Switzerland.

According to the strict letter of Swiss neutrality laws, this exchange was illegal. None of those involved could have suspected that the wire-tapping system would become public knowledge. But as one Swiss official explained: "No counterintelligence service, even that of a neutral country, can work in total isolation—any more than weather forecasts can be made without an exchange of weather reports with other countries."

The second category of information Dubois sent to the federal police, with instructions to use the material only in Switzerland's own counterintelligence work and on no account deliver it to Mercier. To give the French information obtained from a conversation, for example, between the Egyptian Embassy and Cairo, would have violated neutrality and the diplomatic traditions held in high esteem by the Swiss.

The secret exchange continued several years. Then, the French landed some spectacular bodyblows at the Algerian nationalist movement. A ship carrying arms from Egypt to Algerian nationalist high command was captured. It looked as if the French had a first-class source of information on the nationalists' plans.

Shortly before the Suez invasion, Dubois and Mercier visited Paris together. It was whispered that Dubois was providing information damaging to Arab interests in North Africa.

Egypt protested to the Swiss Foreign Ministry. At this point, Foreign Minister Max Petitpierre probably knew of collaboration between Dubois and Mercier. But neither Dubois nor any other member of the government suspected that Mercier obtained his most valuable information elsewhere.

The Swiss army intelligence service—which works independently of the federal police—early this year reported suspicious contacts between Ulrich and Mercier. Inquiry disclosed that Ulrich was selling to Mercier precisely those reports which Dubois had decided could not be delivered to the sources about plans in French North Africa.

Details of the inquiry became known March 20. Mercier then sought to protect his contact—Ulrich—by threatening to expose his relations with Dubois.

That was a serious miscalculation. Mercier's efforts helped provide damaging evidence against the inspector. At the same time, Dubois was shocked to discover his government was not prepared to take any responsibility for his own activities.

Swiss investigators to this day are not certain where Dubois drew the line between information that could and could not be given to Mercier. But they are convinced Dubois felt he was doing the right thing.

More was at stake, however, than the individuals involved. Any government admission of complicity with Dubois would have been a serious blow to public confidence and would have provided ammunition for Communist allegations that the government was violating neutrality.

Furthermore, Egypt might have been compelled, for face-saving reasons, to break diplomatic relations with a neutral government which admitted tapping Egyptian Embassy wires for Egypt's enemy. As the Swiss represent Britain and France in Egypt, such a move would have had far-reaching consequences.

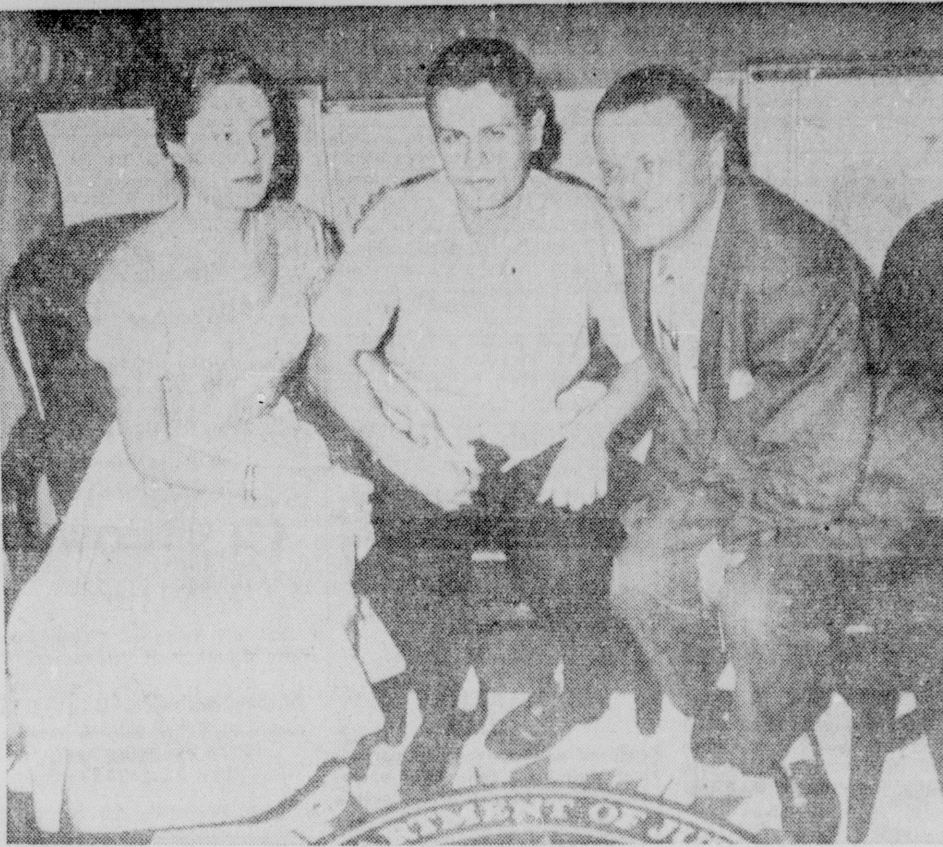

Early March 23, Dubois saw Markus Feldmann, minister of justice and police, and obtained confirmation that he would receive no support from the government. He went home and told his wife: "You can't trust anyone any more."

No one may ever know whether these words were directed at Mercier, Ulrich, Feldmann, or someone unknown who broke his trust. A few hours later, Dubois was found dead, a bullet through his head.

Investigating Judge Hans Walder was put in charge of a new inquiry, with the double aim of establishing a prosecution case against Ulrich and determining the reasons for Dubois' suicide.

Walder this month ordered Ulrich arrested on charges of espionage and violation of the official secrets laws. He announced Ulrich made a full confession after a note he tried to smuggle out of prison was intercepted. Two days later, Mercier was expelled.

Walder's inquiry is expected to continue until late summer. His report to the government is not likely to be published, though Ulrich's trial will probably be held in public next winter. Feldmann may give a detailed statement to Parliament. But the full story may never be announced.

PARENTS RE-UNITED WITH MISSING SON—Vittorio Barattieri, 14, son of Italian consul general in Chicago, is flanked by his parents, Count Ludovico and Countess Olga Barattieri in FBI headquarters at New York after being found following 44-day nationwide search. The parents arrived earlier in day by plane from Chicago, (AP Wirephoto)

Italian Consul And Wife In Jubilant Reunion With Son

NEW YORK, May 30 (UP)—The Italian consul to Chicago and his wife had a jubilant, tearful and-forget reunion today with their 14-year-old son, who said he ran away from home "on the spur of the moment" six weeks ago to gain "self-assurance and maturity."

Tall, slender Vittorio Barattieri told a news conference at the Italian consulate here that he left his family's Chicago home April 16 with $120 he had saved by salting away his $2-a-week allowance.

Vittorio, son of Count and Countess Ludovico Barattieri, was picked up on a midtown Manhattan street Wednesday night by FBI agents acting on a tip from a person who had seen Vittorio's picture in newspapers.

At first, Vittorio admitted, he tried to fool the FBI agents into thinking he was just a boy from the Bronx, but when they confronted him with his own picture and asked if it was of anyone he knew, he replied: "Yeh."

All the time Vittorio was away from home, raising his family's fears he had been kidnapped or perhaps even murdered, he was trying to make a go of it on his own in the big city.

He said he had only $70 in his pocket when he arrived here. He rented a room on Manhattan's East Side for $8 a week and then spent all his time sightseeing and going to movies until his money ran low.

Wanted Excitement

Then he obtained a social security card under the name of John Raul and went to work first as a messenger boy and then as a busboy in a Queens restaurant.

Vittorio said proudly he earned about $60 in the two jobs. But he had only $2 left when he was picked up Wednesday night and he still wore the "rovers" he had on when he left home.

"I was caught first," he said, "but I would have called home today or tomorrow anyway. I was broke — that's one reason."

Asked why he ran away from home, he said:

"I wanted some excitement and I thought it would provide me with some self-assurance and maturity."

Railway Asks To Increase Rates On Newspapers

BATON ROUGE, May 30 (AP)—The Louisiana Public Service Commission today took under advisement a railway request for an increase in rates on newspapers transported in baggage service.

The Louisiana and Arkansas-Kansas City Southern Railway asked the rate boosts.

It argued no increase has been allowed on newspaper rates in Louisiana since 1950, and "during that period of time all costs have substantially increased and are still increasing."

The rails argued increases have been allowed on passenger rates, excess baggage, freight, mail and express, "but newspaper traffic is still moving under rate in effect for the past seven years."

Rates for 100 pounds of newspapers moved 50 miles is 70 cents, while the higher rate would be 81 cents. For 50-100 miles the present rate is 83 cents, while the new rate would be 95 cents and other increases are asked in similar proportions.

The current minimum charge per month is $2. The new schedule would boost the minimum to $10.

MEMORIAL DAY Nation Honors Its War Dead In Services Throughout U.S.

WASHINGTON, May 30 (UP)—The nation honored its war dead today with parades and Memorial Day services in military cemeteries across the country.

The presidential wreath, symbolizing America's gratitude to its fallen heroes, was placed on the tomb of the unknown soldier in Arlington, Va., national cemetery by Deputy Defense Secretary Donald A. Quarles.

Quarles told some 40 veterans and civil organizations gathered at the shrine that this generation had a "unique hope" for peace. He said science has made war too horrible to serve the politics of any nation.

Eisenhower Rested

President Eisenhower himself rested at the White House, electing to spend the holiday in the capital rather than at his Gettysburg, Pa., farm.

At Minneapolis, two Navy jet planes, flying a Memorial Day salute, collided near an area where hundreds of persons were decorating graves in Memorial Day services. One pilot was killed while the other parachuted to safety.

One of the ceremonies at Arlington cemetery was led by Katie and Lillian Guiton, two elderly sisters who devote themselves to remembering the war dead of America's allies.

Guiton Sisters

On each Memorial Day for nearly 30 years, the Guiton sisters have come to the cemetery to decorate the graves of foreigners buried there.

Today they were accompanied by a military color guard, chaplain and bugler. The ladies seemed pleased and touched by this addition to their ceremony.

Memorial Day began as a tribute to the northern dead of the Civil War but has come to mean a salute to all Americans who have died in battle, from revolutionary days to the Korean War.

One District of Columbia service was held in the smallest national cemetery where only 41 soldiers are buried. They died in the defense of Washington during Gen. Jubal Early's Civil War attack in July, 1864.
